TWO CENTS

A WAR ORDER BY SECY. LONG

Vessels Ordered Painted Black, the Fighting Color.

NAVAL OFFICERS ALARMED.

Urged the President to Send a Squadron Against Spanish Flotilla.

WILL AWAIT EVENTUALITIES.

President McKinley Does Not Believe the Spanish Minister, Who Says the Torpedo Fleet Is Coming to Appease Spanish Opinion at Home and Help Sagasta in the Elections—The President Will Await the Effect on Congress of the Maine Report on Monday—Then if It Is Received Calmly and Reported to the Committees, He Will Follow It Up Immediately With the Rest of His Program—Spain Expected to Allow Us to Feed the Reconcentrados, but Will Likely Consider Feeding the Insurgents an Act of War.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—There is absolute evidence that President McKinley expects the commencement of hostilities with Spain in a very few days.

Secretary Long, after the closing of the navy department sent these instructions to all points in this country where American war vessels are located:

Paint every ship in the North Atlantic squadron black."

The Spanish boats are black. White is our peace paint and black will be our fighting paint."

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, "Fighting Bob" Evans, Commodore Schley and other officers of high rank and sound judgment have appealed to President McKinley in the most urgent manner to issue an order for the interception and capture or destruction of the Spanish torpedo fleet before it reached Porto Rico.

The president was implored to send a flying squadron of three of our swiftest cruisers to intercept the Spanish flotilla a few hundred miles out at sea, where the torpedoboats would have no advantage in a fight, and where they could be speedily sunk or disabled. When the president objected that this would be war, he was told that the coming of the torpedoboats in face of our objections was in effect an act of war on the part of Spain, and we would bitterly regret it if we did not strike a swift and decisive blow before the Spanish battleship destroyers could reach Porto Rico or Havana.

While it was evident the appeals made to him had a good deal of effect on the president, they could not move him from his purpose to let things take their course.

President McKinley is said not to place undue confidence in the assurance of the Spanish minister that the sending of the flotilla was simply intended to appease Spanish public opinion and help Senator Sagasta in the impending election, because of the serious effect which the presence of the flotilla will have, but whatever diplomatic protests he may have he will not authorize the navy officers to do what they think the occasion demands, unless some change should occur in the general situation which would justify him in believing that his peacemaking is vain, and that the time has come to strike.

If congress or the country should put the worst construction on the Maine report, and draw the inference that the responsibility must be fixed on Spanish officials, all his intervention program, which is based on the passive reception of the report on Monday and its burial in committee, will be upset, and this is why he and his advisers all say that they must wait until they see what happens when the report goes to congress Monday before they can say absolutely what will be done next.

The president is reported as determined, if all goes well Monday, to follow it up immediately with the rest of his program, as outlined in these dispatches, and with hope of success after congress shall have appropriated the money for sending the supplies to the destitute. There is said to be good reason for saying that the Spanish government will not treat this appropriation as a hostile act unless the terms of the legislation are offensive, but will accept it with thanks as a friendly charity, and will draw the line only at the delivery of food and supplies to the insurgents in arms.

But the administration's purpose is apparently not to discriminate between the starving in one part of the island and the starving in another, and the insurgents or the people within their lines are to share in the distribution, and this, apparently, Spain would treat as giving aid and comfort to her rebellious subjects and amounting to an act of war.

WANT THE ALBANY HURRIED.

Lieutenant Colwell Told to Have the Builders Hasten Her Construction.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Lieutenant Colwell, at London, has been directed by the navy department to urge the builders of the recently purchased cruiser, Albany, formerly the Brazilian vessel, Abreu, to hasten the construction of the ship with all possible speed.

In the ordinary course of work the vessel would not be completed before next December, but it is believed by officials of the navy department that if the builders are placed under pressure she can be made ready for sea within three months, and perhaps in a little less time.

THE REVENUE CUTTERS.

They Are Ordered to the Atlantic Coast. Valuable Additions to the Navy.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Captain Shoemaker, chief of the revenue cutter service, has been busily engaged in making assignments of officers to the revenue cutters detailed for defensive service along the Atlantic seaboard. They will make the trip to the Atlantic seaboard through the St. Lawrence river. The commanders of the revenue cutters have been notified by wire to be in readiness to move as soon as their general orders are received.

The revenue cutters which will be ordered into service and their present stations are as follows: The Woodbury, at Portland, Me.; Hamilton, Philadelphia; Hudson, New York; Manning, Boston; Calumet, Chicago; Gresham, Milwaukee; Morrow, Wilmington, N. C., and Winona, Baltimore.

Captain Shoemaker was of the opinion that it would require about a week for all of the vessels to reach Hampton Roads, or rather Norfolk, which will be their official rendezvous. At the navyyard the vessels will receive their equipment—guns, ammunition, torpedoes and supplies and will make such other preparations as are necessary for fighting service. The new cutter Gresham, recently built at Cleveland, in a brief time can be transformed into a formidable commerce destroyer or torpedoboat. She was built expressly for such an emergency as she is now called upon to meet. She is equipped for a torpedo tube and can carry an ugly battery of rapid-fire guns. All of the vessels are first-rate seagoing craft and all of them are fitted with small but effective batteries. Their speed varies from 14 to 20 knots.

All officers of the revenue cutter service now on duty with the lifesaving service are being withdrawn and assigned to duty on the vessels ordered to Norfolk.

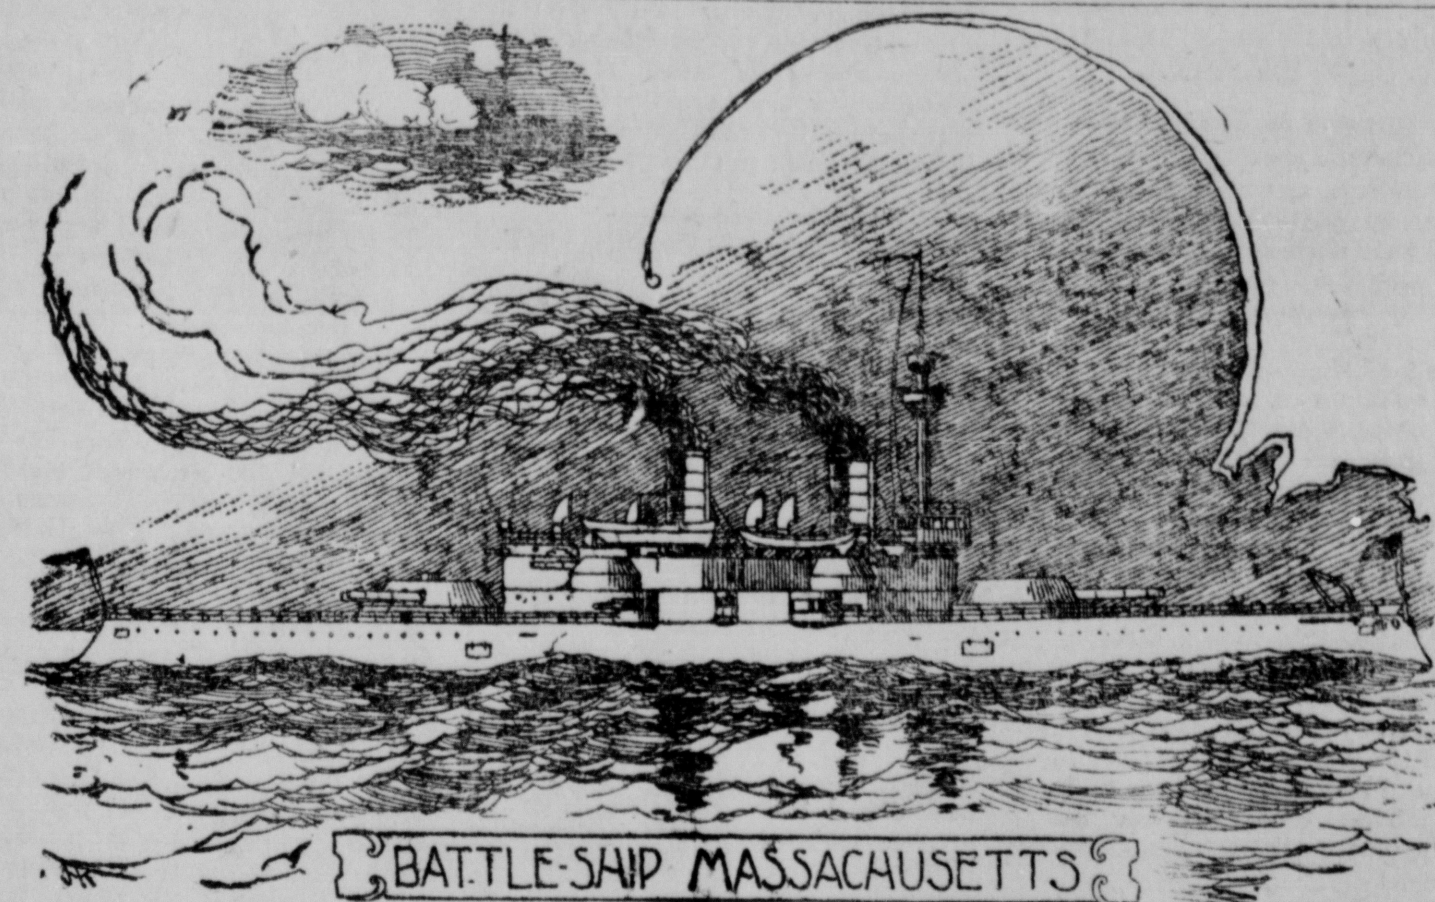

As soon as they are prepared for service, they will be dispatched to Key West, and placed at the disposal of Commodore Sampson, in command of the naval squadron at that station.

SCHLEY COMMANDS
THE FLYING SQUADRON.

Five Good Ships Will Compose It—Sampson's Fleet to Be Strengthened by Additional Vessels.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The "flying squadron" has now been definitely established, with Commodore W. S. Schley in command. He will hoist his commodore's flag on the flagship Brooklyn next Monday. The squadron is to consist of exactly five ships, no more and no less, despite conjecture as to possible ships that might be added. Those of the squadron will be the crack armored cruiser Brooklyn, the battleships Massachusetts and Texas and the cruisers Columbia and Minnesota.

Other ships which are now or hereafter at Hampton Roads, will not be of the flying squadron, but will belong to the North Atlantic station, under Captain Sampson. The flying squadron is to be a small, compact fleet of the best ships in the navy, for quick service at any point along the Atlantic.

At the same time, the North Atlantic station, under Captain Sampson, is to be further augmented. The cruiser Cincinnati, which left Port Antonio three days ago under sealed orders, is to report at Key West, as will also the gunboat Wilmington also enroute from Port Antonio, as well as the gunboat Vicksburg, now at Hampton Roads.

ACCIDENT, SAYS SPAIN.

The Report of the Naval Board So Declares—Minister Woodford Confers With Gullon.

MADRID, March 26.—The report of the Spanish board of inquiry into the loss of the battleship Maine says emphatically that the explosion was of internal origin.

The Spanish report says "it is scientifically and practically demonstrated that the explosion was internal."

The United States minister, General Stewart L. Woodford, has had a long conference with the minister for foreign affairs, Senor Gullon. Absolute reticence is observed as to what transpired.

MADRID, March 26.—Under the heading, "Yankee Ships at Havana," the Carlist organ, El Correo Espanol, on March 12, gives an illustration representing the United States cruiser Montgomery followed by a description of her armament and speed. At the end of the description is the following remark:

"May God deal with this ship as shall best serve our interests."

HAVANA HARBOR MINED.

If Sicard Owned It, He Says He Would Mine It—Don't Believe Spain's Denial.

KEY WEST, March 26.—Rear Admiral Sicard in an interview here said:

"The court of inquiry brought in findings according to what its members believed. Nothing could have made them do otherwise. If they had been able to fix the responsibility I feel sure they would not have shirked this duty."

The attention of Rear Admiral Sicard was drawn to the fact that Spain had officially denied that Havana harbor was mined.

He replied: "If Havana harbor were mine I should certainly have mined it. The water there is especially suitable to such a method of defense. Spain's denial had nothing to do with the court of inquiry. I should not believe a statement that Havana harbor was not mined."

"The court of inquiry is composed of splendid men, I am greatly satisfied with their work."

When the possibility of arbitration of the ensuing entanglements were suggested to him he said:

"The Maine case is nothing in comparison with the Alabama claims. Then we were opposed to a powerful commercial rival, but now we are dealing with Spain."

OVER $30,000 TO CUBA.

How the Fund, Started by the President's Subscription, Has Grown.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—On Dec. 27 last President McKinley issued an appeal to the people of the United States for contributions of money, food and clothing for the benefit of the starving Cubans and announced that contributions of money might be sent to the consul general at Havana, through the secretary of state.

The total fund received at the state department to date, in response to this appeal, amounts to $30,048. It was started by a subscription of $5,000 from the president of the United States.

TO MAN THE MONITORS.

Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and New Jersey Militia to Be Used.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—No definite arrangements have been made by the department for the calling of the naval militia men into service, but such arrangements will be made perhaps before night. It is unlikely that the naval militia of New Jersey also will be called upon to assist in manning the old monitors. As to the rumored likelihood that the naval militia of Ohio, Illinois and Michigan would be called into service, navy department officials said that no steps to that end had yet been taken, but the intimation was broadly conveyed that they would be called upon to serve upon the monitors.

The department is satisfied that not only the vessels themselves, but also the crews, inexperienced though they may be, will give a good account of themselves if any emergency should arise that would put them into action.

MANGROVE GONE TO HAVANA.

Will Bring Officials Home, Excepting General Lee.

KEY WEST, March 26.—The bulletin that the court of inquiry had found the Maine was blown up by a submarine mine created intense excitement here. It was read by eager crowds, which included Rear Admiral Sicard, elderly captains and young cadets.

The most significant development that followed the announcement of the court's report—a development known to but few—was the sudden sailing of the lighthouse tender Mangrove for Havana. The Mangrove was lying quietly at the dock loading buoys, when orders came for her to proceed with all haste to Havana and to take on board all the American officials in that city, with the exception of Consul General Lee.

It is feared here that the knowledge of the court's report has excited Havana's population, and brought the anti-American sentiment to a climax.

MORE MONEY FOR ORDNANCE.

General Flagler Secures an Additional Allotment From Alger.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—General Flagler, chief of ordnance of the army, has had a long conference with Secretary Alger, with reference to additional guns and gun carriages. A few days ago Secretary Alger allotted to General Flagler $1,600,000 from the emergency appropriation made by congress to be used by the ordnance bureau in the discretion of General Flagler.

This amount, although large, was not, in the opinion of General Flagler, sufficient to meet the requirements of the present emergency and his conference with the secretary was to obtain an additional allowance. After a careful canvass of the situation, Secretary Alger gave General Flagler a liberal additional allotment.

SPANISH TROOPS SUFFERING.

Starvation and Disease Prevails—War Can't Last Long.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 26.—A private letter, dated three days ago, from Manzanillo, received here by a schooner, says the condition of the Spanish troops there is terrible. It adds that starvation and disease prevail everywhere and that the government forces have sustained heavy losses in recent skirmishes with the insurgents, the wounded being brought to town in carriages.

The letter says in conclusion that even without the intervention of the United States the war cannot last much longer.

TEXAS SAILED SUDDENLY.

She Is Bound For Brooklyn, Where Improvements Are to Be Made.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., March 26.—The battleship Texas sailed suddenly when only a few tons of coal had been taken aboard. A large load of fuel was refused and the ship put to sea in a hurry.

The Texas is bound for the Brooklyn navyyard, where some improvements will be made in the facilities for loading the guns of the ship.

BLOWN UP BY MINE.

Verdict of the Naval Board on Maine Explosion.

SITUATION EXTREMELY CRITICAL.

Spain Refuses to Turn Back the Torpedo Fleet—Also Holds the Maine Disaster to Be of External Origin—Unprecedented War Preparations.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The court of inquiry appointed to investigate the cause of the Maine disaster has reported that the loss of the battleship was due to an outside explosion.

The state department, by direction of the president, has cabled United States Minister Woodford to notify the Spanish government of this conclusion. The president and his cabinet advisers held two extended sessions, at which the report was considered in detail. Members of the cabinet stated after the meeting that the discussion was of grave character and that never since the wrecking of the Maine has the situation seemed so critical.

The Spanish government has cabled officially to Washington that the Spanish naval commission holds the disaster to the Maine to be of internal origin. The government of Spain, it can be stated positively, is not disposed to turn back the torpedo flotilla now proceeding from the Canaries and would be disinclined to consider a suggestion from this government tending to interfere with the disposition by Spain of her own naval forces.

War preparations on an unprecedented scale is being hurried to completion by the war and navy departments and the country practically is on a war footing.

The situation is the most exciting since the civil war, it being a time of the deepest anxiety coupled with naval and military activity, one step following another in rapid succession. Representative men of the administration, public men in all branches of official and congressional life, no less than the public in general, share in the tension to which the situation has been wrought. There has been no effort among the highest officials, nor indeed was it possible from what was clearly apparent in the developments, to minimize the situation.

The decision of the court briefly stated is that the loss of the Maine was due to an explosion from the outside, the court being unable to fix the responsibility for the explosion. The court does not express an opinion as to the character of the explosion, but the testimony goes to show that it was a powerful submarine mine, the exact character of which is not determined by the testimony, though the belief was expressed that it was a floating submarine mine. There were two explosions, the court finds; the first was from the outside and that set off one of the smaller magazines.

It was this result, expressed in detail and with the precision of a court deeply conscious of its responsibility, together with the evidence on which it was based, that occupied the attention of the cabinet. There was no change in the plan of making the report public and transmitting it to congress early next week, accompanied by a brief message from the president.

While interest was thus centered at the White House, the navy and war departments were hurrying forward their work of preparations. The advance of the Spanish torpedo flotilla continued to receive the closest attention of naval officials, and while so far as could be ascertained, no definite line of action was determined upon, the need of intercepting this fleet was urged by the highest naval authorities.

From the standpoint of the Spanish government, this movement was not a menace, having been decided upon many weeks ago. On the contrary the Spanish government holds that the extensive armament of the Dry Tortugas is a more direct hostile act against Spain than any movement of the flotilla. Instead of stopping the flotilla, the present attitude of Spain tends toward re-enforcing it with other Spanish war vessels, not as a menace, but, from what the Spanish government feels is a requirement called for by the existing condition of affairs.

Hardly less suggestive than the approach of the torpedo flotilla was the information received by the highest military authorities that the Spanish government had hurried to completion extensive fortification on the island of Porto Rico, lying just off Cuba.

THE ORDER HAS BEEN ISSUED

Exception Is Taken to the Statement That Winnie Mercer Is the Highest Priced Pitcher in the Big League—Some Other Baseball News.

Manager Clark, of the Louisville club, has settled the question once for all who shall play first base for the team by stating that George Carey will get the position without a contest. This will relieve the minds of Carey's many friends in the city who had no doubt that he would be able to hold the position if he was given a chance. He is in fine form, and has been doing phenomenal work for his team during their spring practice at West Baden.

Sporting Life takes exception to the statement that Winnie Mercer is the highest salaried pitcher in the league, and says: "Win Mercer, of Washington, is now touted as the highest salaried pitcher in the league. We guess that distinction belongs to Rusie."

The paper also states that Bill Eagan has been placed at the top of the Pittsburgh batting order and is pretty sure to replace Padden at second base. His many friends here have no doubt that Padden will continue to cover second base for Pittsburgh. Should he not do so Philadelphia is willing to pay a good figure for his release.

The local ball players who have signed contracts for 1898 are rapidly getting into shape, and the majority of them will join their teams the middle of next month.

No effort will be made to organize a ball team in the city until it is ascertained just how many players will leave town. It is probable some new material will be developed to put the club in first class condition.

TEACHERS

And Those Preparing to Teach in the Public Schools.

The normal term at the Ohio Valley Business college for teachers and those preparing to teach will commence Monday, April 11, 1898. This will be a grand opportunity for all teachers who have to take the examination this spring, as it will give them a chance to review the different branches. This will be a grand chance for the high school pupils to review the normal studies.

All the teachers who were in the class last year passed good examinations. Mr. McBane will assist Professor Cooper in teaching this class. Any desiring to enter the class should enroll at once, as, on account of room, we are compelled to limit our number, and as a number have already enrolled, it would be well to call at the college office as soon as possible.

OLD RESIDENT DEAD.

Henry Meek Lived in the County More Than Three Score Years.

The remains of Henry Meek will be interred in Clarkson cemetery tomorrow afternoon, services being conducted by Prof. O. S. Reed, of this city.

Mr. Meek came to this county 78 years ago, and has since resided in St. Clair township. He was 88 years old, and was known to a great many people in this vicinity.

A musical will be given at the Christian church Monday evening, March 28. Admission 10 cents.

ATTITUDE OF EUROPE

NEUTRAL UNLESS UNITED STATES EFFECTS BRITISH ALLIANCE.

The Statement of a Diplomat—President's Rejection of Sir Julian Pauncefote's Reported Proposal Commended as Wise. In No Danger From Europe.

"If President McKinley had effected an understanding or tacit alliance with Great Britain, as was proposed the other day by Sir Julian Pauncefote, he would have made a great and almost irreparable blunder. Fortunately the president was too astute to be caught in such a trap."

The foregoing words were spoken to me by an important member of the diplomatic corps, the representative of one of the great nations of Europe, and some valuable information concerning the attitude and relations of the various foreign powers was given by the diplomatist who is quoted above.

"Russia has an understanding with Spain that should Japan threaten the Philippines the czar will interfere actively," he said. "This entente, not being generally known, caused the expression of the imperial purpose of Russia in the Videmosti on Nov. 19 to be much misunderstood. The czar, having been approached by Spain, announced in his organ:

"The minister of foreign affairs recently informed his excellency the ambassador from Spain that in the event of war between the United States and Spain growing out of the Cuban insurrection the government of the czar is compromised to support neither side, but will observe a strict neutrality up to a certain point."

"The certain point is that if Japan should take advantage of the situation to seize the Spanish possessions in the orient the czar would feel himself called upon to intervene to prevent the aggrandizement of Japan. Reasons for this course are obvious. Reasons are just as obvious why the czar would remain strictly neutral between Spain and the United States.

"It behooves the United States at this time to understand the reason of the new alignment of the powers of Europe," continued the diplomat. "During the last 100 years Great Britain has pursued a policy of aggression. Every spot on earth that seemed capable of only weak defense was being brought under her power. It is not unreasonable to assert that had England been permitted to carry on her programme for 50 years more practically all of Africa, the richer parts of Asia and many islands of the sea would have fallen under her dominion, and she would have been strong enough to have dominated the world.

"Individual nations of Europe had begun to follow her example, but when the Greek war was deliberately fomented for the purpose of embroiling and weakening the continental sovereignties a halt was called, and it was determined to oppose to her plans a concert of nations and to circumscribe her audacious efforts wherever possible. For this reason the new triple alliance has been formed by France, Germany and Russia. Peace in Europe they will maintain, but the boundaries of the British empire have been stretched to their utmost limit until she can conquer Europe.

"This has simply been a matter of self preservation. No European nation except Great Britain has anything to fear from the ambition of the United States. The United States has nothing to fear from any of the continental nations, but she has everything to fear from an alliance, quasi or open, with Great Britain. Under no circumstances could the United States be the English catspaw.

"Following the ostentatious visit of Sir Julian Pauncefote to the president," continued this member of the diplomatic corps, "there was some irritation in Europe. Happily the American people have repudiated the scheme, and the administration has delicately but effectively assured the world that it is not in search of an ally. The continental nations have therefore returned to their old positions. Russia's programme I have already made plain. Germany has within the last few days renewed its declaration of neutrality between the United States and Spain.

"France is laboring to protect her financial interests in Spain, but is doing it with an eye friendly to the United States. While she exerts herself for peace she expresses no hostile purpose if the United States sees fit to avenge her honor or to take such measures as are necessary for her peace and quietude, though France would naturally like to have the financial interests of her citizens considered as much as possible in the Cuban settlement.

"Austria has more than once assured not only the United States but the concert of Europe that the relationship of the queen regent of Spain and the Austrian reigning family will not affect national policies. When Queen Christina married into the Spanish house, she relinquished all claims upon Austria except those of family sympathy. All these assurances have been given by European governments. The countervailing position of Great Britain to place her fleet at the disposal of the United States is not of particular moment.

"It may be asserted that the United States is in no danger from continental Europe. While the nations of Europe would deplore war between Spain and the United States because in the present state of the armament of the powers any war is dangerous for all, and while they are now doubtless trying by diplomatic pressure to restrain Spain, yet there is no purpose to coerce the United States or thwart her so long as the present balance of power in Europe is not disturbed by the weight of her influence on one side or the other. It might be that Spain would find allies if England was the friend of the United States."—Walter Wellman in Chicago Times-Herald.

BOYS' ODD PUNISHMENT.

Justice Dooley's Method With Two Very Young Thieves In Chicago.

Justice Dooley of Chicago used a unique method in his court recently to impress on the minds of two youthful offenders the shame they had brought upon themselves. The boys were Joseph Kuczewski and Frank Kalicesky, 10 and 12 years old respectively. They were arrested the other evening on charges of stealing from freight cars.

They admitted the allegations in court, but considering their extreme youth the magistrate was not disposed to send them away. He compelled them to walk up and down the courtroom with their hands over their heads for several minutes. Court proceedings were suspended, and when the lads were again summoned before his honor they appeared to have been sufficiently punished.

"Next time you appear before me," said his honor, "I shall make you walk through the streets with your hands much higher than you held them today."

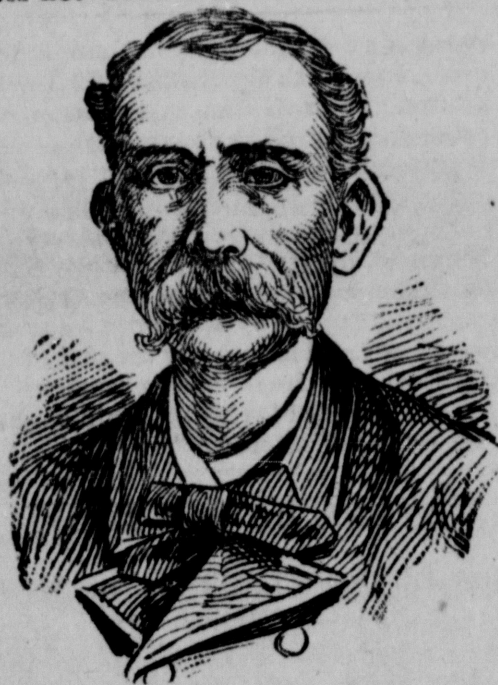

The boys very earnestly assured the court that never again would they do anything which would bring them into the clutches of the police.—Chicago Post.

GENERAL GOMEZ TALKS.

If There Is Not War, Americans Are Not What He Thinks They Are.

A letter, the second to arrive within a few weeks, came the other afternoon from Major William Cox of the Cuban army, formerly of the national guard of Pennsylvania. It came in remarkably quick time, being only seven days on the way from General Gomez's headquarters in eastern Santa Clara to Philadelphia, indicating that it was carried to Havana, and there sent via the Cuban mail system to Tampa. Major Cox says in part:

"The disaster to the American ship the Maine is the talk of the insurgent army now. There is not a man who does not believe it was the result of Spanish scheming. I returned to Santa Clara only the other day, and I reported to Gomez. When I spoke to him about the Maine affair, he said:

IT'S FIRST SETTLEMENT.

New Mexico's Three Hundredth Anniversary to Be Celebrated at Santa Fe.

The Society of New Mexican Pioneers and the Historical society resolved the other day to observe at Santa Fe with appropriate ceremonies the three hundredth anniversary of the first permanent settlement of this territory. This settlement was made at Yreque, called by the Spaniards San Gabriel, at the junction of the Rio Grande and the Chama rivers, near the present station of Chamita, opposite the Pueblo and San Juan, and the day of the original establishment of the Spaniards under Onate at that point was July 13, 1598.

It was also recommended to the people of San Antonio and Socorro to celebrate in an appropriate manner on the last of June the arrival of the Spaniards at their towns, known as Seneca and Teipana, 800 years before, and especially to commemorate the hospitality of the Pueblo inhabitants, which caused the name "Socorro" to be bestowed.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning March 27. Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M. Topic, Missionary Leadings.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Acts xvi, 6-14.

No real Christian can be indifferent to the spiritual needs of other men. It is of the very essence of salvation that it make each one interested in the salvation of all others. Christ "tasted death for every man" and sends all His followers into the world to call men to God by announcing the glad tidings of forgiveness of sins and reconciliation.

The success of this work depends on two agencies. First the spirit of God and second the co-operation of men. Neither can be spared. Men must do the evangelizing. The gospel must be preached. Converts must be organized into churches and taught and shepherded as the fold of Christ. All needful human agencies and appliances must be used. But all these human means are powerless and valueless unless the Holy Spirit energize them and give them efficiency. His guidance is promised and may be, indeed must be, relied upon at all times or the workers will go astray.

Paul is directed by providential circumstances from one field of effort to another. His reason would often lead him to attempt to go in a certain direction, but at times the way would be closed and indications would point out a path before unthought of or rejected.

It is the same at the present time with us as individuals, as societies and as a church. God still guides the work. His Spirit supervises all operations, inspires all right plans, sustains the worker and makes effective all efforts which bring success.

India, China, Africa and every field of missionary activity are as truly under the immediate care of God now as in the ancient days were Macedonia and Galatia, Achaia and Asia. The history of modern missions is the romance of divine leadings in most unexpected ways.

No more fascinating task can be assumed than the watching the providential progress and development of the kingdom of God among the nations of the earth called heathen. During the present century the most marvelous advancement has been seen. Fiji in 1840 was cannibal. Today it has the most thoroughly Christianized community on the globe. The story of missionary enterprise is intensely thrilling and gives abundant assurance that heroism is still a present quality in the race and that the divine presence is still with the faithful as truly as when He abode in the shekinah in the tabernacle in the wilderness or inspired Paul to preach the gospel to the gentiles.

Ecumenical Conference.

In July, 1901, the next ecumenical conference of Methodism is to be held in City Road chapel, London. Without doubt this will be the most notable gathering of Methodists ever held. Much history has been made since the last meeting. The League and guild have been organized and grown to large proportions and developed unexpected resources. The missionary work has expanded and progressed with steady pace. Hospital, educational and relief interests have made great advances. The world has moved forward and upward. It is well that this meeting should be held in the world's metropolis. Nowhere else can mission work among the masses be so well studied as there. The darkest spot on earth is in London. The best efforts of Christianity in reform and relief agencies are there in operation. The problem and attempts at its solution can there be studied.

Much attention should also be given to historic Methodism. Localities in London, Bristol, Oxford and Epworth connected with early Methodist history should be visited and studied.

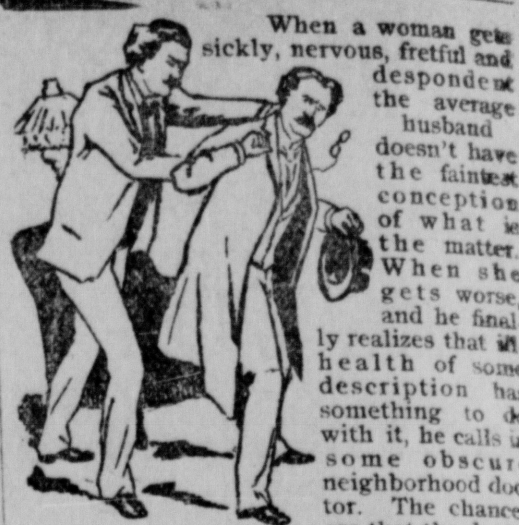

Many Leagues should prepare to attend this great conference.

Positive Goodness.

This is not necessarily offensive or unduly aggressive. It may be gentleness itself and of rare refinement. To be effective goodness must not be merely negative. To do nothing specially wrong or harmful is not a high condition of moral life. One must be actively and positively good to be of value to himself or any one else. It is well not to push any one down in the struggle of life. It is far better to help some one up. "Do not steal" is good as far as it goes. "Give to the needy" is better and reaches much further. Speak no evil is a difficult rule to follow. Speak lovingly and helpfully is better and easier. Repression is ever painful. Get into the right track, then take off the brakes and open the throttle valve of your soul. There is less danger and more joy and profit in running at good speed than with brakes set and steam down.

Indianapolis, 1899.

The next international Epworth League convention will be held in the beautiful city of Indianapolis. It is anticipated that 40,000 delegates will be in attendance. The city is capable of taking care of that number comfortably. The halls, hotels and churches to be used are all located near together. The lot for the great tent is across the street from Townsboro hall. The city is emphatically one of elegant homes. The business section is modern and imposing. The principal streets are paved with asphalt. It is none too early to talk

When a woman gets sickly, nervous, fretful and despondent the average husband doesn't have the faintest conception of what is the matter. When she gets worse, and he finally realizes that the health of some description has something to do with it, he calls in some obscure neighborhood doctor. The chances are that the doctor says it's stomach, or liver, or heart trouble. Nine times in ten he isn't within a mile of right. He treats for these troubles and charges big bills until the husband gets disgusted and throws him out. The trouble is usually weakness or disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Many husbands, after paying big doctor bills while their wives grew steadily worse, have at last written to a physician of national reputation and learned the truth. They have been justly indignant at the ignorant pretensions who have experimented upon their wives' health. By writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, any ailing woman may receive the free advice of an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a marvelous medicine for women. It cures all weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine. It heals all internal ulceration and inflammation and stops debilitating drains. Over 30,000 women have testified, over their own signatures, to its wonderful merits.

"For several years I suffered with prolapsus of the uterus," writes Miss A. Lee Schuster, of Box 12, Rodney, Jefferson Co., Miss. "I had a fall from my horse, causing retroversion of the uterus. Our family physician treated me for kidney trouble and everything else but the right thing. I grew worse and worse. My body was emaciated, hands and feet clammy and cold, stomach weak with great palpitation of the heart. I dreaded for night to come, for I would suffer from nausea all night, and so I continued until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and I began to improve right away. I am now well and happy."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

VETERAN ANDERSON

Talks of War and the Legacy That Was Left Him For His Share in It.

Like every city in our republic, East Liverpool has its share of veterans, who, in spite of pensions, are paying dearly for the privilege that they had in enduring the exposure, hardships, toil, sickness and risk of death for the glory of their country in the "late unpleasantness." If the testimonials received from old soldiers who endorse all the claims for Doan's Kidney Pills—and these same are now disappearing in the localities where they were unearthed—were published in East Liverpool, they would fill every column of every newspaper in East Liverpool. There would be nothing gained by their publication, for neither quantity nor quality of foreign testimony can touch evidence furnished by a local citizen. Read what Mr. Wm. Anderson, of 305 Lisboa street, says:

"During the Civil War I enlisted and served three years in the 43d Ohio Infantry. From the exposure during the war I attribute my late trouble which bothered me more or less ever since, some attacks being much worse than others. Severe aching and weakness in the loins so bad at times that I could scarcely get around, and muscular rheumatism of recent years, all seemed to have entered in my kidneys. In the mornings when first getting up I was very dizzy until I had moved around for a time, and my nervous system became affected, causing a fluttering and fullness around the heart. Seeing an advertisement in the Review, I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy, and took them. The first few doses gave me relief. The improvement was gradual, but continued as the medicine got more thoroughly in the system. I firmly believe Doan's Kidney Pills will, in every case, as they did in mine, prove the justness of the claims made for them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

The First Sunday School.

It is probable that the first Sunday school in America was that organized by Bishop Asbury in 1786 at Thomas Crenshaw's, Hanover county, Ga. In 1790 provision was made by conference for Sunday schools and books. John Wesley was the first man in England to publicly approve of the plan of Robert Raikes. From the first Methodism has had her eyes open to the needs of the young people and has amply provided to meet those needs.

There is a hot place in hell reserved for a scoundrel who would deliberately steal the meat intended to sustain the life of a dear old superannuated preacher who is almost deaf and blind.—Madison (Ga.) No more fascinating task can be assumed than the watching the providential progress and development of the kingdom of God among the nations of the earth called heathen. During the present century the most marvelous advancement has been seen. Fiji in 1840 was cannibal. Today it has the most thoroughly Christianized community on the globe. The story of missionary enterprise is intensely thrilling and gives abundant assurance that heroism is still a present quality in the race and that the divine presence is still with the faithful as truly as when He abode in the shekinah in the tabernacle in the wilderness or inspired Paul to preach the gospel to the gentiles.

Ecumenical Conference.

In July, 1901, the next ecumenical conference of Methodism is to be held in City Road chapel, London. Without doubt this will be the most notable gathering of Methodists ever held. Much history has been made since the last meeting. The League and guild have been organized and grown to large proportions and developed unexpected resources. The missionary work has expanded and progressed with steady pace. Hospital, educational and relief interests have made great advances. The world has moved forward and upward. It is well that this meeting should be held in the world's metropolis. Nowhere else can mission work among the masses be so well studied as there. The darkest spot on earth is in London. The best efforts of Christianity in reform and relief agencies are there in operation. The problem and attempts at its solution can there be studied.

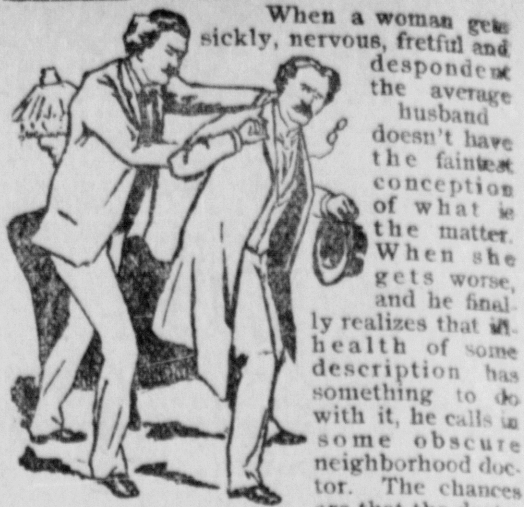

Much attention should also be given to historic Methodism. Localities in London, Bristol, Oxford and Epworth connected with early Methodist history should be visited and studied. Many Leagues should prepare to attend this great conference.

Positive Goodness.

This is not necessarily offensive or unduly aggressive. It may be gentleness itself and of rare refinement. To be effective goodness must not be merely negative. To do nothing specially wrong or harmful is not a high condition of moral life. One must be actively and positively good to be of value to himself or any one else. It is well not to push any one down in the struggle of life. It is far better to help some one up. "Do not steal" is good as far as it goes. "Give to the needy" is better and reaches much further. Speak no evil is a difficult rule to follow. Speak lovingly and helpfully is better and easier. Repression is ever painful. Get into the right track, then take off the brakes and open the throttle valve of your soul. There is less danger and more joy and profit in running at good speed than with brakes set and steam down.

Indianapolis, 1899.

The next international Epworth League convention will be held in the beautiful city of Indianapolis. It is anticipated that 40,000 delegates will be in attendance. The city is capable of taking care of that number comfortably. The halls, hotels and churches to be used are all located near together. The lot for the great tent is across the street from Towninsworth hall. The city is emphatically one of elegant homes. The business section is modern and imposing. The principal streets are paved with asphalt. It is none too early to talk

When a woman gets sickly, nervous, fretful and despondent the average husband doesn't have the faintest conception of what is the matter. When she gets worse, and he finally realizes that the health of some description has something to do with it, he calls in some obscure neighborhood doctor. The chances are that the doctor says it's stomach, or liver, or heart trouble. Nine times in ten he isn't within a mile of right. He treats for these troubles and charges big bills until the husband gets disgusted and throws him out. The trouble is usually weakness or disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Many husbands, after paying big doctor bills while their wives grew steadily worse, have at last written to a physician of national reputation and learned the truth. They have been justly indignant at the ignorant pretenders who have experimented upon their wives' health. By writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, any ailing woman may receive the free advice of an eminent and skillful specialist, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a marvelous medicine for women. It cures all weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine. It heals all internal ulceration and inflammation and stops debilitating drains. Over 90,000 women have testified, over their own signatures, to its wonderful merits.

"For several years I suffered with prolapsus of the uterus," writes Miss A. Lee Schuster, of Box 12, Rodney, Jefferson Co., Miss. "I had a fall from my horse, causing retroversion of the uterus. Our family physician treated me for kidney trouble and everything else but the right thing. I grew worse and worse. My body was emaciated, hands and feet clammy and cold, stomach weak, with great palpitation of the heart. I dreaded for night to come, for I would suffer from nausea all night, and so I continued until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and I began to improve right away. I am now well and happy."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

VETERAN ANDERSON

Talks of War and the Legacy That Was Left Him for His Share in It.

Like every city in our republic, East Liverpool has its share of veterans, who, in spite of pensions, are paying dearly for the privilege that they had in enduring the exposure, hardships, toil, sickness and risk of death for the glory of their country in the "late unpleasantness." If the testimonials received from old soldiers who endorse all the claims for Doan's Kidney Pills—and these same are now disappearing in the localities where they were unearthed—were published in East Liverpool, they would fill every column of every newspaper in East Liverpool. There would be nothing gained by their publication, for neither quantity nor quality of foreign testimony can touch evidence furnished by a local citizen. Read what Mr. Wm. Anderson, of 305 Lisboa street, says:

"During the Civil War I enlisted and served three years in the 43d Ohio Infantry. From the exposure during the war I attribute my late trouble which bothered me more or less ever since, some attacks being much worse than others. Severe aching and weakness in the loins so bad at times that I could scarcely get around, and muscular rheumatism of recent years, all seemed to have centered in my kidneys. In the mornings when I first getting up I was very dizzy until I had moved around for a time, and my nervous system became affected, causing a fluttering and fullness around the heart. Seeing an advertisement in the Review, I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. Pharmacy, and took them. The first few doses gave me relief. The improvement was gradual, but continued as the medicine got more thoroughly into the system. I firmly believe Doan's Kidney Pills will, in every case, as they did in mine, prove the justness of the claims made for them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

and plan for this meeting. It will be grander than anything before.

The First Sunday School.

It is probable that the first Sunday school in America was that organized by Bishop Asbury in 1786 at Thomas Crenshaw's, Hanover county, Ga. In 1790 provision was made by conference for Sunday schools and books. John Wesley was the first man in England to publicly approve of the plan of Robert Raikes. From the first Methodism has had her eyes open to the needs of the young people and has amply provided to meet those needs.

Stole the Preacher's Meat.

Some low down thieving scoundrel invaded the premises of the Rev. J. W. Baker of Madison, Ga., the other night and stole nearly all the meat from a pig which the old gentleman had just killed. Talk about the Armenian massacres, Cuban atrocities, Maine disasters and murders galore, but this is a crime that equals them all. There is a hot place in hell reserved for a scoundrel who would deliberately steal the meat intended to sustain the life of a dear old superannuated preacher who is almost deaf and blind.—Madison (Ga.) Advertiser.

SIXTEEN BIG SLIDES

Made Up the Damage on the Street Railway.

ROAD OPEN TO THE EAST END

The City is Rapidly Recovering From the effects of the Flood, and in a Few Days There Will Be Nothing to Show That the Water Was Unusually High.

So much work has been done in the city since yesterday morning that traces of the flood are rapidly disappearing.

Superintendent Andrews and his force have been working day and night since the heavy rains damaged the line between Jethro and Wellsville, 40 men being employed in clearing the tracks. There were 16 separate and distinct slides between the trestle at Jethro and the trestle in Wellsville. These aggregated tons of earth and rocks, and more work was done on the line than ever before in the same time. Cars were sent through to East End yesterday afternoon, and the service was at once made regular. It was impossible to reach the East End of Wellsville because of the damage at the culvert. A temporary trestle was built there this morning, and as the company have two cars in Wellsville and the transfer at the trestle will not be difficult, the service will soon be almost as good as usual.

The river potteries did not start this morning, but the work of cleaning is being pushed, and all will be in operation next Monday.

Commissioner Finley and his force worked on the river road today, and succeeded in clearing away large quantities of drift. Teams came from East End early this morning.

The wharf was a mass of "sloppy mud," as one man put it, several inches deep, and Wharfmaster Lloyd today had a cinder road built from the street to the wharfbow.

The East End is cleaned, and looks almost as good as new. It required much work to induce the run to follow its usual course near the Second Presbyterian church, and the city must spend a good many dollars before the culverts are all repaired.

The Cleveland and Pittsburg officials succeeded in opening the river division last night, and trains are now running through to Bellaire on slow time. The slips between this place and Rochester are well cleared and repairs are being rushed. The company lost an enormous amount of money when the shut down and actual damage to the tracks is taken into consideration.

EVERY NIGHT NEXT WEEK

Thomas E. Shea and One of the Best Companies of the Season Will Be Here.

There is a general belief that Thomas E. Shea's engagement in the "Man o' Wars Man," commencing Monday at the opera house, will be characterized by uninterrupted success. This belief is founded on the great hit which the popular actor made in his American naval drama last season in this city. By the sheer force of his magnetism, Mr. Shea secured the good will of his auditors on his very first appearance here. During Mr. Shea's stay in this city the following repertoire will be produced: Monday and Tuesday, the "Man o' Wars Man;" Wednesday matinee, the "Bells;" night, "Monte Cristo;" Thursday, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde;" Friday, to be announced; Saturday matinee, to be announced; night, "Fire Patrol."

THE PUBLIC COMPLAINS

Because Wheelmen Do Not Observe the Law.

A wheelman last evening ran into a small boy in the Diamond and the parties received hard falls.

Already there is a great deal of complaint about the bicyclists. It is claimed that not over half of the wheels are fitted with bells as required by ordinance and that the wheelmen pay no attention whatever to the law. It has been suggested that the officers make an investigation of the wheels and compel their owners to have first class bells.

FANNY RICE TONIGHT.

The Company Arrived at Noon After a Long Trip.

Fanny Rice and her company reached the city today after a long trip, endeavoring to fill the engagement made with Manager Norris.

The curtain will rise tonight at 9 o'clock, in order that business men may attend the performance, which will be without doubt one of the best ever seen in the city.

SAVED BY HIS WIFE.

Mrs. McKinley of Winchester Cuts a Bulldog's Throat to Protect Her Husband.

Dr. William McKinley of Winchester, Ky., and his wife drove into the country the other day to see a patient. Mrs. McKinley remained in the buggy, and the doctor started to go into the patient's house. Just before he reached the door a bulldog sprang at the doctor's throat.

The doctor grabbed the brute's muzzle with his right hand and his forelegs with his left and called his wife to his assistance. She belabored the dog with the buggy whip to no purpose, when the doctor told her to get his knife out of his pocket and cut the dog's throat.

She got the knife, but the excitement of fighting the dog and her husband's perilous position had made her so nervous that it was fully a minute before she could open it. The dog was struggling, and it was with difficulty that she could strike him with the knife. Finally she stabbed the brute just behind the jugular vein and, pulling the knife toward her, cut his throat from ear to ear. The dog gave a few convulsive struggles as the blood gushed from his neck in streams, and the doctor threw him from his dead. He turned to look for his wife and found that she had fainted. He ran to the house, got some water and revived her.

Two years ago, while Mrs. McKinley was in her kitchen superintending breakfast, the doctor was caught in a folding bed, and his wife returned to the room just in time to save him from strangulation. Mrs. McKinley is about 35 years old, of petite figure and is not very strong.—New York World.

BATTLE WITH A BULL.

Pasadena Citizen Had an Exciting Encounter With an Angry Jersey.

While Eugene Rischard of Pasadena, Cal., was leading a big Jersey bull to water the other day the animal became enraged, snapped the stick fastened to the ring in his nose and charged his master and downed him. Mr. Rischard leaped to his feet and ran into a narrow chicken coop, slamming the door behind him. There was no exit save through the door, and the bull stood guard. The bull promptly jumped at him, and this time the man was not quick enough to slam the door. The bull squeezed through the narrow opening into the chicken coop, which is about 3 by 10 feet.

It was an exciting moment. Mr. Rischard crouched in the corner of the coop, while the bull, bellowing and snorting, pressed his horns against the man's breast, goring and pinioning him. There was no escape, and Rischard closed his eyes and gave up. At that moment the bull raised his head to toss him. Rischard caught the bull's horns and, exerting all his strength, climbed over the bull's back and out to safety before the infuriated beast could back outward. The man will recover. The bull was shot, five bullets in the head being necessary.—San Francisco Examiner.

FROM HARVARD STUDENTS.

The Cabinet Received Word That They Are Ready For War.

Harvard is ready for war. This news is official and exclusive. Only a handful of persons, each of whom is sworn to secrecy, have any idea of the active preparations now going on in the university for the defense of the country. F. M. Alger, son of Secretary Alger, is the man who is in entire charge of all the arrangements, and he is acting with such rare tact and effectual secrecy that his movements are almost absolutely covered up, and even the faculty of the college is absolutely in the dark as to what he intends to do.

The first intimation given to the war department concerning the defensive measures on foot in the university city was a telegraphic dispatch sent recently by young Alger to his father, in Washington, to the effect that there was a whole regiment of young students who were only waiting for a chance to get into the thick of things. This dispatch, which was read at a recent cabinet meeting, was the sensation of the day.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Scared Tennyson.

Tennyson one day entered a club reading room and sat down in a large armchair before the fire. Much to the amazement of the other occupants of the room, he proceeded to elevate his feet until they rested on the chimneypiece in "real American" fashion. No expostulations on the part of his friends respecting the inelegance of the position were of the slightest avail. Suddenly a brilliant inspiration seized one of them. Going close to Lord Tennyson, he whispered in his ear, "Take your feet down or they'll mistake you for Longfellow." In an instant the poet's boots were on the floor, and he assumed the ordinary position of an Englishman.—San Francisco Argonaut.

FOR MAYOR.

[In the Interest of Law, Order and Clean Government.]

X CHARLES F. BOUGH.

Subject to the Decision of All Good Citizens, irrespective of Party Affiliations.

JOHN KERR.

When a Republican paper, founded on the solid rock of true Republicanism, free from the taint of the idea of "affiliation for revenue only," speaks good words for a pronounced Democrat, especially when in the heat and warmth of a political contest, then that Democrat has just cause for manly pride, confident that he has the respect and esteem of manly political opponents. The News Review delights in warmly commending John Kerr for the stand he has taken in the mayoralty contest now on hand. John Kerr believed that he had a strong following in East Liverpool. He believed that, if Charles F. Bough would step down and out, and control, in as far as possible, his following in favor of Mr. Kerr, backed by the great number of Republicans who will not, under any circumstances, vote with the evil element which calls A. V. Gilbert their leader, he could be elected mayor of East Liverpool. But Charles F. Bough in turn felt that he had a strong personal following, and that he could be elected, beyond peradventure, if there remained but two tickets in the field; namely, the GOOD and the EVIL; the LAW-ABIDING and the LAW-DEFYING; clean municipal government and good citizenship against foul and unclean government, lawlessness, drunkenness and disorder. Mr. John Kerr then felt it his duty to retire from the contest. He announced this decision, after careful deliberation, through the columns of the public press, sacrificing political ambition and hope of office in his earnest desire for good and clean government. Strong pressure was brought to bear upon Mr. Kerr in order to have him reconsider his declination. He was grossly misrepresented in a daily paper of this city and placed in a false position through the medium of an unreliable and untrustworthy reporter of an unreliable and untrustworthy sheet. But he would not swerve from the line of duty he had marked out for himself, and, over his own signature, absolutely declines to be a candidate for the berth of mayor of East Liverpool. All honor be to John Kerr, and may he have a rich reward. The conflict is now on, and the battle is between Charles F. Bough and A. V. Gilbert. The former represents that which is good and true and clean and pure. The latter is the acknowledged leader of the liquor and saloon element, and his following, as a rule, is composed of a law-breaking and law-defying class. It is true that he may have some following among a better class of Republicans, influenced by the fact that he received the nomination at the primaries; men who urge that you should vote the straight ticket, no matter if the evil one himself had succeeded, by fair means or foul, in securing a place thereon. But the News Review believes that the great mass of the Republican voters of East Liverpool will not cast their ballots for A. V. Gilbert. Why? Simply because the voters know that A. V. Gilbert's administration, for the past two years, has been an absolute outrage against good citizenship, and that he is absolutely unworthy to occupy the position of the chief magistrate of East Liverpool.

WORDS OF BURNING.

The story of Cuba and the horrors inflicted upon her by Spain has best been told by Proctor and Thurston, noble men, whose utterances carry conviction with them. The United States has a duty to perform, and we believe that the president of this great nation is the man, under God, to see that the duty is faithfully and effectually carried into execution. In the name of 210,000 men, women and children, starved to death by the cruel Spaniard, Cuba calls upon the United States for relief. God will punish this nation if we refuse the plea.

WHICH?

Will your vote be cast for clean municipal government on April 4, 1898, or will it drop into the ballot box in favor of a continuation of the disgraceful misrule and lawlessness which has controlled for the past two years in East Liverpool? Parents, do you desire that your boys and girls shall be taught, by example, that the chief magistrate of a city like our own can permit such misrule and still be called an honorable and upright citizen? Do you want your boy to pattern after such an example? Be careful. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."

TO THE PEOPLE.

The telegraphic service furnished by the News Review to the people is incomparably superior to that of all would-be rival papers in this section. Examine the issues of last night and you will discover that the boasted service of the "pony telegrams" sink into insignificance when compared with the world reaching service of the American Press association, controlled exclusively in this city by the News Review.

THE "TARES" OF THE BIBLE.

A Government Circular Deals With Them Under the Name of Vetches.

A circular recently issued by the United States department of agriculture is devoted to "the cultivated vetches." Perhaps every one doesn't know what a vetch is. The plants described in the department's circular are all natives of the old world, and among them are the "hairy vetch" or "sand vetch," the "spring vetch" or "tares," the "winter vetch" and the "kidney vetch."

Tares have been cultivated in Europe for upward of 20 centuries. They were cultivated by the Romans and esteemed by them as a valuable fodder crop. The result of their introduction into the United States, however, has not been satisfactory, and it has been found that clovers and field peas render better results.

The kidney vetch has not given good results. The winter vetch has proved of value in the southern states, but the hairy vetch has given the best results of all, and the circular says that it is "one of the most promising fodder crops which have been brought into the United States in recent years and by some is considered especially valuable for light sandy soils."

The Effect of Environment.

"One of the tallest men I ever knew was a Rhode Islander. He measured nearly 7 feet in height."
"Perhaps he had to grow that way. There was no room for him to spread out."—Chicago Tribune.

In the Baltic sea there is an island of Denmark called Bornholm which consists almost entirely of magnetite. It is much dreaded by navigators because it renders steering a ship by means of a needle impossible.

WELLSVILLE.

DOES THIS MEAN WAR

That's What Some of Doctor Taylor's Friends Think.

HE WAS HERE BEFORE SUMPTER

And Never Returned to Wellsville Until This Week, When He Came on a Similar Mission—End of the Flood—All the News of Wellsville.

Dr. W. M. Taylor, of Mt. Jackson, Pa., returned home today after assisting Rav. Lowry in a week of special services, and in that fact people acquainted with the circumstances see a strong coincidence.

Just 37 years ago this month Doctor Taylor came to Wellsville for the purpose of assisting Rev. W. W. Laferty, who was then pastor of the Presbyterian church, in special meetings. The war feeling was then, as it is now, most pronounced, and within a few weeks after the gentleman left town Fort Sumpter was fired upon. Doctor Taylor has not been in Wellsville since that time until this week.

The Churches.

M. E. church, Rev. J. S. Reager, pastor—Morning, "Three Things;" Brotherhood meeting 2 p. m.; evening, "Heroes of Philanthropy." Rev. C. F. Swift will address the Asbury Brotherhood, Prof. O. S. Reed having been called to attend a funeral. Ministers and all other men are invited.

U. P. church, Rev. W. A. Littell, pastor—Communion at 10 a. m., "Children of God;" evening, "Let Your Light Shine."
Second Presbyterian church, Rev. C. L. V. McKee, pastor—At 10:30 a. m., "Where Did We Get Our Bible;" 6:30 p. m., "The Plague of Machine Rule." All welcome.

First Presbyterian, Rev. H. W. Lowry, pastor—Reception of members and communion in the morning. Regular service in the evening.

Christian church, Rev. J. N. Miller, pastor—Morning services as usual. Evening, an address on living issues by Mrs. Stone.

M. P. church, Rev. C. W. Stephenson, pastor—Morning, "A Fearless World;" evening, "Working something better than a gold mine."

Evangelical church, W. H. Gamertsfelder, pastor—Morning subject, "Riches of Grace;" evening, "Value of Religious Experience."

Church of the Ascension, Rev. Jones, Ph. D., pastor—Sunday school 9 a. m.; morning service 10:15; evening service at 6:30.

John Wilson and Charles Rigot, of Johnstown, Pa., were arrested last night for train jumping by Officer Davis. Mayor Stewart fined each $1 and costs.

The News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Maggie Davidson, of Glasgow, has sold her home and will move to Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hickman and two children went this morning for a visit in Cleveland.

Mrs. H. C. Wells and son, Wayne, are visiting Doctor Bagley in Wheeling.

The pumps at the water works were started last evening at 7 o'clock when there was but 2½ feet of water in the reservoir. At 8 o'clock this morning the water was 6 feet deep. Superintendent Fogo is being highly complimented for his efficient work during the flood.

An important meeting of the fair association was held last night.

The Lisbon road was opened for travel today, and milk dealers reached their customers by that route.

Alex McBane, who has been employed in Canton, is in town. He will go to New Castle next Monday for the purpose of embarking in the shoe business.

Reverend Wier, of Toronto, addressed the meeting at the Presbyterian church this afternoon.

Rev. W. A. Littell will deliver an address before the ministerial association of Pittsburg next Monday.

Mrs. Dobbs, who has been in jail charged with shooting at Sadie Geisse, was released on bail today. During her incarceration her little daughter refused to leave her and has shared her imprisonment.

For Standard patterns call on or send to Sue C. Jones, Main street, Wellsville.

A Quiet Night.

No arrests were made during the night, and no calls were sent to the fire station. It was a very quiet night for the police, and they had a very easy time of it.

FOR MAYOR.

[In the Interest of Law, Order and Clean Government.]

X CHARLES F. BOUGH.

Subject to the Decision of All Good Citizens, irrespective of Party Affiliations.

JOHN KERR.

When a Republican paper, founded on the solid rock of true Republicanism, free from the taint of the idea of "affiliation for revenue only," speaks good words for a pronounced Democrat, especially when in the heat and warmth of a political contest, then that Democrat has just cause for manly pride, confident that he has the respect and esteem of manly political opponents. The News Review delights in warmly commending John Kerr for the stand he has taken in the mayoralty contest now on hand.
 John Kerr believed that he had a strong following in East Liverpool. He believed that, if Charles F. Bough would step down and out, and control, in as far as possible, his following in favor of Mr. Kerr, backed by the great number of Republicans who will not, under any circumstances, vote with the evil element which calls A. V. Gilbert their leader, he could be elected mayor of East Liverpool. But Charles F. Bough in turn felt that he had a strong personal following, and that he could be elected, beyond peradventure, if there remained but two tickets in the field; namely, the GOOD and the EVIL; the LAW-ABIDING and the LAW-DEFYING; clean municipal government and good citizenship against foul and unclean government, lawlessness, drunkenness and disorder. Mr.
 John Kerr then felt it his duty to retire from the contest. He announced this decision, after careful deliberation, through the columns of the public press, sacrificing political ambition and hope of office in his earnest desire for good and clean government. Strong pressure was brought to bear upon Mr. Kerr in order to have him reconsider his declination. He was grossly misrepresented in a daily paper of this city and placed in a false position through the medium of an unreliable and untrustworthy reporter of an unreliable and untrustworthy sheet. But he would not swerve from the line of duty he had marked out for himself, and, over his own signature, absolutely declines to be a candidate for the berth of mayor of East Liverpool.

 All honor be to John Kerr, and may he have a rich reward. The conflict is now on, and the battle is between Charles F.
 Bough and A. V. Gilbert. The former represents that which is good and true and clean and pure. The latter is the acknowledged leader of the liquor and saloon element, and his following, as a rule, is composed of a law-breaking and law-defying class. It is true that he may have some following among a better class of Republicans, influenced by the fact that he received the nomination at the primaries; men who urge that you should vote the straight ticket, no matter if the evil one himself had succeeded, by fair means or foul, in securing a place thereon. But the NEWS REVIEW believes that the great mass of the Republican voters of East Liverpool will not cast their ballots for A. V. Gilbert.
 Why? Simply because the voters know that A. V. Gilbert's administration, for the past two years, has been an absolute outrage against good citizenship, and that he is absolutely unworthy to occupy the position of the chief magistrate of East Liverpool.

WORDS OF BURNING.

The story of Cuba and the horrors inflicted upon her by Spain has best been told by Proctor and Thurston, noble men, whose utterances carry conviction with them. The United States has a duty to perform, and we believe that the president of this great nation is the man, under God, to see that the duty is faithfully and effectually carried into execution. In the name of 210,000 men, women and children, starved to death by the cruel Spaniard, Cuba calls upon the United States for relief. God will punish this nation if we refuse the plea.

WHICH?

Will your vote be cast for clean municipal government on April 4, 1898, or will it drop into the ballot box in favor of a continuation of the disgraceful misrule and lawlessness which has controlled for the past two years in East Liverpool? Parents, do you desire that your boys and girls shall be taught, by example, that the chief magistrate of a city like our own can permit such misrule and still be called an honorable and upright citizen? Do you want your boy to pattern after such an example? Be careful. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."

TO THE PEOPLE.

The telegraphic service furnished by the NEWS REVIEW to the people is incomparably superior to that of all would-be rival papers in this section. Examine the issues of last night and you will discover that the boasted service of the "pony telegrams" sink into insignificance when compared with the world reaching service of the American Press association, controlled exclusively in this city by the NEWS REVIEW.

THE "TARES" OF THE BIBLE.

A Government Circular Deals With Them
 Under the Name of Vetches.

A circular recently issued by the United States department of agriculture is devoted to "the cultivated vetches." Perhaps every one doesn't know what a vetch is. The plants described in the department's circular are all natives of the old world, and among them are the "hairy vetch" or "sand vetch," the "spring vetch" or "tares," the "winter vetch" and the "kidney vetch."

Tares have been cultivated in Europe for upward of 20 centuries. They were cultivated by the Romans and esteemed by them as a valuable fodder crop. The result of their introduction into the United States, however, has not been satisfactory, and it has been found that clovers and field peas render better results.

The kidney vetch has not given good results. The winter vetch has proved of value in the southern states, but the hairy vetch has given the best results of all, and the circular says that it is "one of the most promising fodder crops which have been brought into the United States in recent years and by some is considered especially valuable for light sandy soils."

The Effect of Environment.

"One of the tallest men I ever knew was a Rhode Islander. He measured nearly 7 feet in height."

"Perhaps he had to grow that way.
 There was no room for him to spread out."—Chicago Tribune.

In the Baltic sea there is an island of Denmark called Bornholm which consists almost entirely of magnetite. It is much dreaded by navigators because it renders steering a ship by means of a needle impossible.

WELLSVILLE.

DOES THIS MEAN WAR

That's What Some of Doctor
 Taylor's Friends Think.

HE WAS HERE BEFORE SUMPTER

And Never Returned to Wellsville Until
 This Week, When He Came on a Similar Mission—End of the Flood—All the News of Wellsville.

Dr. W. M. Taylor, of Mt. Jackson,
 Pa., returned home today after assisting Rav. Lowry in a week of special services, and in that fact people acquainted with the circumstances see a strong coincidence.

Just 37 years ago this month Doctor
 Taylor came to Wellsville for the pur-posed of assisting Rev. W. W. Laferty, who was then pastor of the Presbyterian church, in special meetings. The war feeling was then, as it is now, most pronounced, and within a few weeks after the gentleman left town Fort Sumpter was fired upon. Doctor Taylor has not been in Wellsville since that time until this week.

The Churches.

M. E. church, Rev. J. S. Reager, pastor—Morning, "Three Things;" Brotherhood meeting 2 p. m.; evening, "Heroes of Philanthropy." Rev. C. F. Swift will address the Asbury Brotherhood, Prof.
 O. S. Reed having been called to attend a funeral. Ministers and all other men are invited.

U. P. church, Rev. W. A. Littell, pastor—Communion at 10 a. m., "Children of God;" evening, "Let Your Light Shine."

Second Presbyterian church, Rev. C.
 L. V. McKee, pastor—At 10:30 a. m.,
 "Where Did We Get Our Bible;" 6:30 p. m., "The Plague of Machine Rule."
 All welcome.

First Presbyterian, Rev. H. W. Lowry, pastor—Reception of members and communion in the morning. Regular service in the evening.

Christian church, Rev. J. N. Miller, pastor—Morning services as usual.
 Evening, an address on living issues by Mrs. Stone.

M. P. church, Rev. C. W. Stephenson, pastor—Morning, "A Fearless World;"
 evening, "Working something better than a gold mine."

Evangelical church, W. H. Gamertsfelder, pastor—Morning subject, "Riches of Grace;" evening, "Value of Religious Experience."

Church of the Ascension, Rev. Jones,
 Ph. D., pastor—Sunday school 9 a. m.; at 6:30.

Paid For the Ride.

John Wilson and Charles Rigot, of Johnstown, Pa., were arrested last night for train jumping by Officer Davis. Mayor Stewart fined each $1 and costs.

The News of Wellsville.

Mrs. Maggie Davidson, of Glasgow, has sold her home and will move to Concord.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hickman and two children went this morning for a visit in Cleveland.

Mrs. H. C. Wells and son, Wayne, are visiting Doctor Bagley in Wheeling.

The pumps at the water works were started last evening at 7 o'clock when there was but 2½ feet of water in the reservoir. At 8 o'clock this morning the water was 6 feet deep. Superintendent Fogo is being highly complimented for his efficient work during the flood.

An important meeting of the fair association was held last night.

The Lisbon road was opened for travel today, and milk dealers reached their customers by that route.

Alex McBane, who has been employed in Canton, is in town. He will go to New Castle next Monday for the purpose of embarking in the shoe business.

Reverend Wier, of Toronto, addressed the meeting at the Presbyterian church this afternoon.

Rev. W. A. Littell will deliver an address before the ministerial association of Pittsburg next Monday.

Mrs. Dobbs, who has been in jail charged with shooting at Sadie Geisse, was released on bail today. During her incarceration her little daughter refused to leave her and has shared her imprisonment.

For Standard patterns call on or send to Sue C. Jones, Main street, Wellsville.

A Quiet Night.

No arrests were made during the night, and no calls were sent to the fire station. It was a very quiet night for the police, and they had a very easy time of it.

FATHER SMYTHE

Speaks Ringing Words of Wisdom and Warning

WITH NO UNCERTAIN SOUND

Father Smythe, of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Declares That the City of East Liverpool Has Had No Government Under the Present Mayor.—Lawlessness and Crime Rampant—Houses of Ill Fame, Gamblers and Slot Machines Hold High Carnival.

Father Smythe, of St. Aloysius Catholic church, was personally interviewed by Captain Palmer at the Rectory, Fifth street, this morning, and gave the following:

"I am in favor of clean and pure government. I stand for the enforcement of law and order. We have had no government in this city of East Liverpool for the past two years. I have personally witnessed much evil and lawlessness, and have information along the same line from persons of reliability, evidence which cannot be successfully contradicted. Houses of ill fame have been permitted to carry on their infamous work. Gamblers have held high carnival. Slot machines have been run openly. Horse racing has taken place on the Sabbath day, on many occasions, on our most public thoroughfares, and all this unrebuked by the law, despite the fact that the present mayor and his subordinates were well acquainted with this horrid condition of affairs. No man, no matter what his political faith may be, can have my support for mayor of this city and permit such lawlessness, crime and disorder as has held full sway under the official life of the present mayor. I am opposed to all lawlessness, sin, crime and disorder and in favor of clean and pure municipal government.

THOMAS M. SMYTHE.

REPAIRS ARE MADE.

Telephone Lines Are Again In Good Order.

Manager Swaney received word yesterday afternoon that repairs had been made to the lines near Salineville and the trunk lines to Wheeling were again in good order.

This ends the troubles of the force at the exchange, but they had enough and to spare during the week. The flood made scores of calls more than usual and the force were compelled to work until well nigh exhausted. Nevertheless the service was good.

KERNOTT-MOORE.

Well-Known Young People Were Married In Akron.

H. A. Kernott and Miss Dora Moore were married Thursday afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother, in Akron, the pastor of the First M. E. church officiating. Mr. Kernott is one of the city's most successful and popular young business men, while Miss Moore was employed in the postoffice for several years, and is very well and favorably known. The happy couple have a host of friends who will wish them much happiness.

TROUBLE FOR SOME ONE.

A Matter of Much Interest May Be Made Public.

There is trouble in the atmosphere in professional circles in East Liverpool, and startling developments may be expected at any moment. The News Review has what should be reliable information respecting the matter, but holds it in abeyance while awaiting developments.

Returned to Their Homes.

The following persons who worked at the glass house before it was destroyed by fire, returned to their homes last night: Albert Minkemmes, Wheeling; William Murry; Toronto; John Beck and Frank Russell, Steubenville. They will not return to this city for some time.

Died In East End.

Lawrence Elmer Arnold, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold, died this morning at their home in East End, from an attack of typhoid fever, aged 10 years. The funeral will take place from the residence Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Reverend Salmon, officiating. Interment at Riverview.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Mrs. Warner Fell Down Stairs at Her Home In Canton.

J. R. Warner, at noon today, received a telegram that his mother, Mrs. M. S. Warner, of Canton, had fallen down stairs and broken her collar bone, and was seriously injured.

She is very well known here and has many friends who will be pained to hear of her accident. Mr. Warner left on the afternoon train.

NO ORDERS.

Warlike Report Freely Circulated In the City.

A story was afloat in the city this afternoon to the effect that Captain Hill had been ordered to have his company in readiness to march at once.

Captain Hill stated to the News Review that there was no truth in the statement.

PRESIDENT PROTESTS.

The Spanish Flotilla Must Not Come Close.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—[Special]—President McKinley this afternoon prepared another protest to Spain declaring that her torpedo flotilla must come no nearer than Porto Rico.

Why She Wanted a Pint.

Ethel is small, but extremely sober minded and therefore to be trusted to run on household errands.

The other day her mother called her from her play and said, "Ethel, I want you to run over to the grocer's and get me a quart of vinegar."

Ethel looked thoughtful and hesitated. "I'd rather get a pint, mamma," she answered.

"Why, Ethel, dear?" exclaimed her astonished parent. "I need a quart, which you must get."

Again the little girl paused. "No," she said, "I'll get you a pint."

"I'm surprised at you. Why should you buy a pint when I wish a quart?" insisted the mother.

"Because," answered Ethel, the tears beginning to come, "I can say pint, and I can't say krort!"—New York Sun.

Engineer McConnell Here.

Engineer McConnell, of Steubenville, was here today, and in company with J. E. McDonald spent the day on South-side locating points for the purpose of securing right of way.

Mr. McConnell refused to say whether the road would be built, and Mr. McDonald refused absolutely to discuss the matter.

Judge Smith Hearing a Case.

The case of Isabelle McCloskey, versus Jas. Hayes, is being heard in city hall by Judge Smith today. The plaintiff asks that a will made by Luke Hays be broken and the property now in the possession of the defendant be given her. At a late hour no decision had been given.

Has Nothing New.

John Shrader, of the bridge company, was in Pittsburg today on business. He said there was nothing of importance to give out about the various bridge cases. Judge Ricks has not returned to Cleveland from Atlantic city, and it is impossible to state when his case will be heard.

Stevenson Looks Well.

Friends in this city who visited Alex Stevenson while in Columbus, state the young man is looking much better than he did some months ago, but is suffering from the effects of a bad cold. He is holding the position of clerk and is enjoying many privileges.

New Disease In India.

SUED THE SCHOOL BOARD.

Because, It Is Alleged, a Contract Was Broken.

LISBON, March 26.—[Special]—In the case of Curtius L. Wolfe versus Perry Sanor the jury brought in a verdict for the defendant. The suit was over disputed land in New Garden.

The following real estate transfers in East Liverpool have been made: Annie Garner to John Garner the north half of lot 575, consideration $5; Alexander D. Allison to E. L. Bradford, lot 2,881, consideration $200; A. S. Wilson to C. B. Wilson lot 1,628, consideration $2,400.

The last will and testament of William Anderson, late of Wellsville township, was admitted to probate today, and letters testamentary granted to Jane Anderson.

A petition has been filed in the case of Lillian Harris versus the board of education of special school district No. 5, Unity township. The plaintiff alleges the board employed her Jan. 11, 1897, to teach the remainder of the school year at a salary of $60 per month; that she entered upon her duties and taught for two months, when the board of education refused to issue an order for her pay. She asks for a judgment for $120, with interest from April 15, 1897.

A petition has been filed by Salem against the Salem Electric Railway company and the Savings and Trust company, of Cleveland, in an action to recover $7,350 claimed due for money expended by the city in paving between the tracks of the company.

Bullets Point to Point.

A correspondent relates the following remarkable personal reminiscence of an incident which occurred during the Franco-German war: "A perfect stranger (an Englishman)," said he, "called upon me and handed to me a chassepot rifle, which he related he had picked up on the field of battle after Gravelotte, which had a bullet or two stuck in about the middle of the barrel and which he requested me to get removed. This was done, and upon examination two bullets were found to have met point to point. A German bullet must have entered the muzzle of the French rifle barrel just as the French rifle had been fired, and the two bullets had met together without bursting the barrel. I inclose my card."—London Telegraph.

Must Have Loved Him.

Many stories have been told of a Manchester man who is supposed to be the—well, to put it humanely—plainest man in England. But we think the following is the funniest:

"Mamma," a child was heard to say in an awestruck whisper, after a prolonged survey of the peculiar features of the guest, "that gentleman's mamma must have loved children very, very much."

"Why so, my dear?" inquired the unsuspecting parent.

"Oh," returned the child in the same audible whisper, "cause she brought him up."—Strand Magazine.

The Connolly Gas Regulator is metallic throughout, to sliding or rubbing contact of metals, or parts at any point. This eliminates all friction, insures accurate and reliable regulation of pressure and prevents wear. It will hold your gas fires at the exact point you set them at all hours during day or night. Your incandescent burners will give a much better light and the mantles will last twice as long with accurately regulated pressure. All waste of gas due to excessive or variation of pressure is prevented by this regulator, whether used for light or heat, and on all kinds of burners or heating appliances. We can submit hundreds of testimonials in support of every point claimed for this regulator. Catalogue on application.

Father Smythe, of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Declares That the City of East Liverpool Has Had No Government Under the Present Mayor.—Lawlessness and Crime Rampant—Houses of Ill Fame, Gamblers and Slot Machines Hold High Carnival.

Father Smythe, of St. Aloysius Catholic church, was personally interviewed by Captain Palmer at the Rectory, Fifth street, this morning, and gave the following:

"I am in favor of clean and pure government. I stand for the enforcement of law and order. We have had no government in this city of East Liverpool for the past two years. I have personally witnessed much evil and lawlessness, and have information along the same line from persons of reliability, evidence which cannot be successfully contradicted. Houses of ill fame have been permitted to carry on their infamous work. Gamblers have held high carnival. Slot machines have been run openly. Horse racing has taken place on the Sabbath day, on many occasions, on our most public thoroughfares, and all this unrebuked by the law, despite the fact that the present mayor and his subordinates were well acquainted with this horrid condition of affairs. No man, no matter what his political faith may be, can have my support for mayor of this city and permit such lawlessness, crime and disorder as has held full sway under the official life of the present mayor. I am opposed to all lawlessness, sin, crime and disorder and in favor of clean and pure municipal government.

REPAIRS ARE MADE.

Telephone Lines Are Again in Good Order.

Manager Swaney received word yesterday afternoon that repairs had been made to the lines near Salineville and the trunk lines to Wheeling were again in good order.

This ends the troubles of the force at the exchange, but they had enough and to spare during the week. The flood made scores of calls more than usual and the force were compelled to work until well nigh exhausted. Nevertheless the service was good.

KERNOTT-MOORE.

Well-Known Young People Were Married in Akron.

H. A. Kernott and Miss Dora Moore were married Thursday afternoon at the residence of the bride's mother, in Akron, the pastor of the First M. E. church officiating. Mr. Kernott is one of the city's most successful and popular young business men, while Miss Moore was employed in the postoffice for several years, and is very well and favorably known. The happy couple have a host of friends who will wish them much happiness.

TROUBLE FOR SOME ONE.

A Matter of Much Interest May Be Made Public.

There is trouble in the atmosphere in professional circles in East Liverpool, and startling developments may be expected at any moment. The News Review has what should be reliable information respecting the matter, but holds it in abeyance while awaiting developments.

Returned to Their Homes.

The following persons who worked at the glass house before it was destroyed by fire, returned to their homes last night: Albert Minkemmes, Wheeling; William Murry; Toronto; John Beck and Frank Russell, Steubenville. They will not return to this city for some time.

Died in East End.

Lawrence Elmer Arnold, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Arnold, died this morning at their home in East End, from an attack of typhoid fever, aged 10 years. The funeral will take place from the residence Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, Reverend Salmon, officiating. Interment at Riverview.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Mrs. Warner Fell Down Stairs at Her Home in Canton.

J. R. Warner, at noon today, received a telegram that his mother, Mrs. M. S. Warner, of Canton, had fallen down stairs and broken her collar bone, and was seriously injured.

She is very well known here and has many friends who will be pained to hear of her accident. Mr. Warner left on the afternoon train.

NO ORDERS.

Warlike Report Freely Circulated in the City.

A story was afloat in the city this afternoon to the effect that Captain Hill had been ordered to have his company in readiness to march at once.

Captain Hill stated to the News Review that there was no truth in the statement.

PRESIDENT PROTESTS.

The Spanish Flotilla Must Not Come Close.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—[Special]—President McKinley this afternoon prepared another protest to Spain declaring that her torpedo flotilla must come no nearer than Porto Rico.

Why She Wanted a Pint.

Ethel is small, but extremely sober minded and therefore to be trusted to run on household errands.

The other day her mother called her from her play and said, "Ethel, I want you to run over to the grocer's and get me a quart of vinegar."

Ethel looked thoughtful and hesitated. "I'd rather get a pint, mamma," she answered.

"Why, Ethel, dear?" exclaimed her astonished parent. "I need a quart, which you must get."

Again the little girl paused. "No," she said, "I'll get you a pint."

"I'm surprised at you. Why should you buy a pint when I wish a quart?" insisted the mother.

"Because," answered Ethel, the tears beginning to come, "I can say pint, and I can't say krot!"—New York Sun.

Engineer McConnell Here.

Engineer McConnell, of Steubenville, was here today, and in company with J. E. McDonald spent the day on South-side locating points for the purpose of securing right of way.

Mr. McConnell refused to say whether the road would be built, and Mr. McDonald refused absolutely to discuss the matter.

Judge Smith Hearing a Case.

The case of Isabelle McCloskey, versus Jas. Hayes, is being heard in city hall by Judge Smith today. The plaintiff asks that a will made by Luke Hays be broken and the property now in the possession of the defendant be given her. At a late hour no decision had been given.

Has Nothing New.

John Shrader, of the bridge company, was in Pittsburgh today on business. He said there was nothing of importance to give out about the various bridge cases. Judge Ricks has not returned to Cleveland from Atlantic city, and it is impossible to state when his case will be heard.

Bullets Point to Point.

A correspondent relates the following remarkable personal reminiscence of an incident which occurred during the Franco-German war: "A perfect stranger (an Englishman)," said he, "called upon me and handed to me a chassepot rifle, which he related he had picked up on the field of battle after Gravelotte, which had a bullet or two stuck in about the middle of the barrel and which he requested me to get removed. This was done, and upon examination two bullets were found to have met point to point. A German bullet must have entered the muzzle of the French rifle barrel just as the French rifle had been fired, and the two bullets had met together without bursting the barrel. I inclose my card."—London Telegraph.

Must Have Loved Him.

Many stories have been told of a Manchester man who is supposed to be the—well, to put it humanely—plainest man in England. But we think the following is the funniest:

"Mamma," a child was heard to say in an awestruck whisper, after a prolonged survey of the peculiar features of the guest, "that gentleman's mamma must have loved children very, very much."

"Why so, my dear?" inquired the unsuspecting parent.

"Oh," returned the child in the same audible whisper, "'cause she brought him up."—Strand Magazine.

WILL DECIDE MONDAY

Whether the Specialty Will Be Rebuilt.

EAST END HAS BEEN SUGGESTED

As Having a Number of Excellent Sites, but Members of the Company Do Not Say What Are Their Plans For the Future.

It is probable that the stockholders of the Specialty Glass company will next Monday evening decide upon their plans for the future. It is not yet known whether the plant will be rebuilt. Members of the company refuse to talk.

The Specialty employed 150 persons, and the amount of money they spent in the city was appreciated by business men. For that reason if for no other the sentiment is growing that an effort should be made to encourage the company by a bonus. A site in East End has been suggested.

It is not yet known whether the sentiment will take tangible form, but there is no denying that it is steadily growing.

PAGE MYLER

Has Some Difficulty With His Early Vegetables.

Page is enacting the part of a "jolly old hayseed," working on the banks of the Little Beaver, and he has been living in anticipation of a glorious harvest of peas, beans, onions, radishes, beets and other vegetables, the names of which have escaped the memory of the pencil shaver. An acquaintance accosted Page on the street this morning, in East Liverpool, and questioned the farmer in embryo as to his crop prospects, eliciting the following response:

"Everything all O. K., old man. I was looking over the territory I am engaged in farming a few evenings since, and my heart bounded with joy at the prospects of splendid crops, and the thought of delicious vegetables for the family table. There is but one thing to mar my joy and dampen my aspirations."

"What's that, Page?"

"I can't find a diving suit anywhere in this slow old town of yours."

"What in the name of common sense do you want with a diving suit?"

"To attend to my crops, you land lubber—the whole farm is nine feet under water."

A Sailor's Description.

A well known naval officer now stationed at Key West writes to The Electrical Review as follows: "The Bache brought over to the quarantine hospital here a number of the survivors of the Maine. One of these wounded jacksies, when asked to tell what he knew of the frightful explosion, said: 'Well, sir, I was a-corkin it off in me hammock, sir, when I hears a hell of a noise. Then, sir, the nurse says, 'Sit up an take this.' That's all I know, sir.'"

Spring Beer.

In winter time it's whisky straight which doth create expense, for every time you take a drink it costeth 15 cents. In gentle spring, when flowers bloom and little birds are here, a man can save a dime each time he purchases a beer. Thus do such things arrange themselves to bless poor man, but then he won't save many dimes, because he'll take a can. —Denver Times.

Still Some Left.

All the big pines have not yet disappeared from Maine, though they are fast going. One of the old fashioned kind was cut in Machias recently. From the trunk a log was taken 20 feet long, scaling 770 feet, and from the three main branches 15 logs of the usual length were taken. —Kennebec Journal.

Early Closing For Milliners.

The clerks' union met last evening and initiated 18 candidates and received two propositions.

All but one millinery store has signed the early closing agreement, but it will not go into effect until April 12 in order to give them time to have their annual opening.

Granted a Patent.

W. E. Daily and Edward Buxton, both of this city, have been granted a patent on a car replacer. The first one to be made was completed yesterday, and during next week will be given a severe test. If found to be successful the Pennsylvania will place a large order. They will be made in this city.

Delay to Bridgewater Plant.

The high water caused considerable delay at the new plant of the Bridgewater Gas company. The expert, who will superintend the work, has been in the city for several days, and it is expected active operations will commence Monday morning.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 27. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—God's unfulfilled promises.—Ps. xci, 1-16.

The Ninety-first Psalm has no inscription and has been very naturally ascribed to David. It most beautifully describes God's loving and watchful care and the peace of those who trust in Him. It is supposed to be dramatic in character and to be distributed among three voices. The first voice utters, in place, verses 1, 3-8, last clause of 9 to 13; the second voice, verse 2 and the first clause of verse 9, and the third voice, speaking for God, verses 14-16. This makes an intensely interesting arrangement of the psalm, adds to its beauty and variety, and it was probably sung in this way.

There are many precious promises of God contained in this psalm. The first two voices speak of God as a refuge and fortress, as one who shall deliver His people from the snare of the fowler and the devouring pestilence, from terror by night and the arrow that flieth by day, from sickness, from evil, from plague, by giving His angels charge over them, to keep them in all their ways. All these blessings were founded upon the precious promises of God, and the psalmist, having learned from experience that God never failed spoke, with assurance when he declared practically that he would not fail. God's people in all ages have learned that God never failed in the keeping of His promises. This is the most precious thing about the promises of God—they are unfulfilled.

God Himself is represented in the third voice of this psalm, and He makes a number of promises and gives His reasons for making them.

1. God promises deliverance because of love. "Because he has set his love upon Me I will deliver him." If we love God as a kind and loving Father, He will watch over us and deliver us from many things, but particularly from sin and the consequences of sin.

2. God promises position because of knowledge of His name. "I will set him on high because he knoweth My name." If we recognize God and exalt Him, He will honor and exalt us.

3. God promises to answer prayer. "When he calleth upon Me, I will answer him." The promise to answer prayer is one of the most precious and most often repeated of the promises of God's word. "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you."

4. God promises long life. "With long life will I satisfy him and show him My salvation." There is not only in God's promise of life a promise of length of days in this life, but eternal life beyond the grave.

Let us believe in God's promises. Let us live upon them, trusting Him and looking to Him for all things.

"Blessed Are the Unsuccessful."

A little story poem tells of an eager throng of youth setting out in a race. One among them excelled all the others in courage, strength and grace and gave early promise of winning. The way was long and hard, and the goal far away, but still this favorite held his place in the lead.

But, ah, what folly! See, he stops To raise a fallen child, To place it out of danger's way, With kiss and warning mild. A fainting comrade claims his care. Once more he turns aside, Then stays his strong young steps to be A feeble woman's guide.

And so, wherever duty calls Or sorrow or distress, He leaves his chosen path to aid, To comfort and to bless.

So at last, when the race is over and the victors are crowned, some with fame's laurels, some with love's flowers, some with gold circlets on their brows, all unknown, unheeded, with empty hands and uncrowned head stands this, the real winner of the race. Earth had no crown for him, but on his face shines heaven's serene and holy light.—J. R. Miller, D. D.

An Able Preacher.

Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Metropolitan Temple, New York, is considered by Hugh Price Hughes as the ablest preacher in America. Mr. Cadman reports over 1,000 communicants in his church, when three years ago there were not 200—920 having been received into membership in two years and eight months.

Far More Important.

Life is too short to wait until some great thing can be done. Little deeds of kindness, little acts of charity done day by day as we go along through life, are far more important than one single deed, however great.—Reformed Church Messenger

Religious Notes.

It is stated that the Mormon church has 1,400 missionaries who receive no salary, but travel and work for the mere payment of their expenses.

Abbe Bourrier, for 20 years a priest in the Roman Catholic church, of good standing and unimpeachable morality, was recently ordained as a Protestant minister in connection with the Established Presbyterian church in France.

THE COUNTRY PAPER

CHAMP CLARK'S ENTHUSIASTIC TRIBUTE TO THE RURAL PRESS.

The Editor Is, Says the Congressman, "the Pack Horse of Every Community," "the Worst Underpaid Laborer in the Vineyard."

In speaking against the Loud postal bill in the house of representatives the other day Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri made the following characteristic plea for the country editor:

"The great objection to this bill," he said, "is that it is detrimental to newspapers and diminishes the diffusion of information. Having once been a country editor myself, I entertain a most kindly feeling for my old conferees. I am willing to make affidavit that the 11 months I spent editing a rural journal were the most beneficial of my life to myself and perhaps to others. I am proud to have belonged to the editorial guild. I am unalterably opposed to anything that will injure the country editor, curtail his profits, circumscribe his usefulness or place an additional thorn in his pathway. The rural editor—God bless him—is the most persistent of teachers. Like charity as described by St. Paul in the thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians, he 'suffereth long and is kind; he envieth not himself, is not puffed up; doth not behave himself unseemly; seeketh not his own; is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in truth; beareth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.'"

"He is the pack horse of every community, the promoter of every laudable enterprise, the worst underpaid laborer in the vineyard. Counting his space as his capital, he gives more to charity, his means considered, than any other member of society. He is a power in politics, a pillar of the church, a leader in the crusade for better morals. He is pre-eminently the friend of humanity. Line upon line, paragraph upon paragraph, day by day, he is embalming in cold type the facts from which the Herodotus, Tacitus, Sismondi or Macaulay of the future will write the history of our times. He fully chronicles our advent into the world, briefly notes our uprisings and our downittings and sorrowfully records our exit.

"As a creator of beauty he double discounts Mme. Ayres, who professes to increase feminine pulchritude only in particular instances, while the country editor, exercising plenary power, beautifies impartially all women whose names appear in his columns. By a touch of his magician's wand he converts paste into diamonds glistening upon beauty's neck, and with a skill of which ancient and ambitious alchemists only dreamed, and with a politeness which Chesterfield might have envied, he transmutes brass trinkets into golden jewels when worn by members of a subscriber's family. He is the greatest and most ingenious of manufacturers, for while others manufacture perishable stuffs he is engaged in manufacturing immortal statemen out of raw—sometimes very raw—materials, an industry which even the Dingley tariff cannot protect. He is

"To our virtues very kind And to our faults a little blind.

"We are all more or less—generally more—his handiwork, and the creature should not be ungrateful to his creator. Without his generous and enthusiastic labors most of us would never have been here, and when he tires of us most of us will return to private life amid rural scenes propitious for secret meditation and silent prayer. Working night and day during the campaign, when the election is over and the time comes for the distribution of the loaves and fishes—now vulgarly called 'pie'—by some strange lapse of memory he is generally forgotten."

Mr. Clark dropped into history for a further illustration of his subject and referred to Horace Greeley's letter to William H. Seward in 1854.

READY TO FIGHT SPAIN.

Eight Hundred Italians, Now Residents of Alabama, Have Adopted Resolutions.

The Italian Society of Jefferson County, Alabama, with a membership of 800, former subjects of King Humbert, at a recent meeting unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"We, the Italian-American citizens of Birmingham and vicinity, deplore the loss of the brave sailors who suffered death in the Maine disaster in Havana harbor, and we are ready and hereby tender our services to defend the stars and stripes, the flag of our adoption, at any time we are called upon."

Accounts of the Maine disaster printed in Italian were read and patriotic speeches were made. A prominent member of the society says that every Italian who has made America his home is only waiting a call to arms in order to prove his loyalty to this country.—St. Louis Republic.

One Instance.

"Our proud name has never been humbled in the dust," said Miss Parvenoo.

"Oh, yes, it has, Sally!" said the inconvenient and objectionable old friend of the family. "I remember it happen: 40 years ago, when the wind blowed down the sign off your grandfather's shoe shop."—Indianapolis Journal.

BUY UNION MADE GOODS.

Union Workmen and Sympathizers Should Ask For the Label.

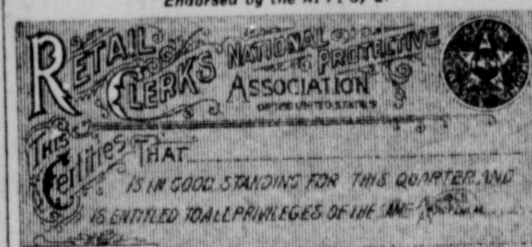

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

The Union Label committee of Trades council having been instructed to secure and publish a fac-simile of different Union Labels, in order to more thoroughly acquaint the public with the same, they herewith present the following. It is the purpose of the committee to insert other labels, and when making purchases you should ask for labeled goods. Be on your guard for false and counterfeit labels.

WILL DECIDE MONDAY

Whether the Specialty Will Be Rebuilt.

EAST END HAS BEEN SUGGESTED

As Having a Number of Excellent Sites, but Members of the Company Do Not Say What Are Their Plans For the Future.

It is probable that the stockholders of the Specialty Glass company will next Monday evening decide upon their plans for the future. It is not yet known whether the plant will be rebuilt. Members of the company refuse to talk.

The Specialty employed 150 persons, and the amount of money they spent in the city was appreciated by business men. For that reason if for no other the sentiment is growing that an effort should be made to encourage the company by a bonus. A site in East End has been suggested.

It is not yet known whether the sentiment will take tangible form, but there is no denying that it is steadily growing.

PAGE MYLER

Has Some Difficulty With His Early Vegetables.

Page is enacting the part of a "jolly old hayseed," working on the banks of the Little Beaver, and he has been living in anticipation of a glorious harvest of peas, beans, onions, radishes, beets and other vegetables, the names of which have escaped the memory of the pencil shaver. An acquaintance accosted Page on the street this morning, in East Liverpool, and questioned the farmer in embryo as to his crop prospects, eliciting the following response:

"Everything all O. K., old man. I was looking over the territory I am engaged in farming a few evenings since, and my heart bounded with joy at the prospects of splendid crops, and the thought of delicious vegetables for the family table. There is but one thing to mar my joy and dampen my aspirations."

"What's that, Page?"

"I can't find a diving suit anywhere in this slow old town of yours."

"What in the name of common sense do you want with a diving suit?"

"To attend to my crops, you land lubber—the whole farm is nine feet under water."

A Sailor's Description.

A well known naval officer now stationed at Key West writes to The Electrical Review as follows: "The Bache brought over to the quarantine hospital here a number of the survivors of the Maine. One of these wounded jacksies, when asked to tell what he knew of the frightful explosion, said: 'Well, sir, I was a-corkin it off in me hammock, sir, when I hears a hell of a noise. Then, sir, the nurse says, "Sit up an take this." That's all I know, sir.'"

Spring Beer.

In winter time it's whisky straight which doth create expense, for every time you take a drink it costeth 15 cents. In gentle spring, when flowers bloom and little birds are here, a man can save a dime each time he purchases a beer. Thus do such things arrange themselves to bless poor man, but then he won't save many dimes, because he'll take a can.—Denver Times.

Still Some Left.

All the big pines have not yet disappeared from Maine, though they are fast going. One of the old fashioned kind was cut in Machias recently. From the trunk a log was taken 20 feet long, scaling 770 feet, and from the three main branches 15 logs of the usual length were taken.—Kennebec Journal.

Early Closing For Milliners.

The clerks' union met last evening and initiated 18 candidates and received two propositions.

All but one millinery store has signed the early closing agreement, but it will not go into effect until April 12 in order to give them time to have their annual opening.

Granted a Patent.

W. E. Daily and Edward Buxton, both of this city, have been granted a patent on a car replacer. The first one to be made was completed yesterday, and during next week will be given a severe test. If found to be successful the Pennsylvania will place a large order. They will be made in this city.

Delay to Bridgewater Plant.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning March 27. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—God's unfailing promises.—Ps. xci, 1-16.

The Ninety-first Psalm has no inscription and has been very naturally ascribed to David. It most beautifully describes God's loving and watchful care and the peace of those who trust in Him. It is supposed to be dramatic in character and to be distributed among three voices. The first voice utters, in place, verses 1, 3-8, last clause of 9 to 13; the second voice, verse 2 and the first clause of verse 9, and the third voice, speaking for God, verses 14-16. This makes an intensely interesting arrangement of the psalm, adds to its beauty and variety, and it was probably sung in this way.

There are many precious promises of God contained in this psalm. The first two voices speak of God as a refuge and fortress, as one who shall deliver His people from the snare of the fowler and the devouring pestilence, from terror by night and the arrow that flieth by day, from sickness, from evil, from plague, by giving His angels charge over them, to keep them in all their ways. All these blessings were founded upon the precious promises of God, and the psalmist, having learned from experience that God never failed spoke, with assurance when he declared practically that he would not fail. God's people in all ages have learned that God never failed in the keeping of His promises. This is the most precious thing about the promises of God—they are unfailing.

God Himself is represented in the third voice of this psalm, and He makes a number of promises and gives His reasons for making them.

1. God promises deliverance because of love. "Because he has set his love upon Me I will deliver him." If we love God as a kind and loving Father, He will watch over us and deliver us from many things, but particularly from sin and the consequences of sin.

2. God promises position because of knowledge of His name. "I will set him on high because he knoweth My name." If we recognize God and exalt Him, He will honor and exalt us.

3. God promises to answer prayer. "When he calleth upon Me, I will answer him." The promise to answer prayer is one of the most precious and most often repeated of the promises of God's word. "Ask and ye shall receive, seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you."

4. God promises long life. "With long life will I satisfy him and show him My salvation." There is not only in God's promise of life a promise of length of days in this life, but eternal life beyond the grave.

Let us believe in God's promises. Let us live upon them, trusting Him and looking to Him for all things.

"Blessed Are the Unsuccessful."

A little story poem tells of an eager throng of youth setting out in a race. One among them excelled all the others in courage, strength and grace and gave early promise of winning. The way was long and hard, and the goal far away, but still this favorite held his place in the lead.

But, ah, what folly! See, he stops To raise a fallen child, To place it out of danger's way, With kiss and warning mild. A fainting comrade claims his care. Once more he turns aside, Then stays his young steps to be A feeble woman's guide.

And so, wherever duty calls Or sorrow or distress, He leaves his chosen path to aid, To comfort and to bless.

So at last, when the race is over and the victors are crowned, some with fame's laurels, some with love's flowers, some with gold circlets on their brows, all unknown, unheeded, with empty hands and uncrowned head stands this, the real winner of the race. Earth had no crown for him, but on his face shines heaven's serene and holy light.—J. R. Miller, D. D.

An Able Preacher.

Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, pastor of the Metropolitan Temple, New York, is considered by Hugh Price Hughes as the ablest preacher in America. Mr. Cadman reports over 1,000 communicants in his church, when three years ago there were not 200—920 having been received into membership in two years and eight months.

Far More Important.

Life is too short to wait until some great thing can be done. Little deeds of kindness, little acts of charity done day by day as we go along through life, are far more important than one single deed, however great.—Reformed Church Messenger.

It is stated that the Mormon church has 1,400 missionaries who receive no salary, but travel and work for the mere payment of their expenses.

Abbe Bourrier, for 20 years a priest in the Roman Catholic church, of good standing and unimpeachable morality, was recently ordained as a Protestant minister in connection with the Established Presbyterian church in France.

THE COUNTRY PAPER

CHAMP CLARK'S ENTHUSIASTIC TRIBUTE TO THE RURAL PRESS.

The Editor Is, Says the Congressman, "the Pack Horse of Every Community," "the Worst Underpaid Laborer in the Vineyard."

In speaking against the Loud postal bill in the house of representatives the other day Congressman Champ Clark of Missouri made the following characteristic plea for the country editor:

"The great objection to this bill," he said, "is that it is detrimental to newspapers and diminishes the diffusion of information. Having once been a country editor myself, I entertain a most kindly feeling for my old conferees. I am willing to make affidavit that the 11 months I spent editing a rural journal were the most beneficial of my life to myself and perhaps to others. I am proud to have belonged to the editorial guild. I am unalterably opposed to anything that will injure the country editor, curtail his profits, circumscribe his usefulness or place an additional thorn in his pathway. The rural editor—God bless him—is the most persistent of teachers. Like charity as described by St. Paul in the thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians, he suffereth long and is kind; he envieth not himself, is not puffed up; doth not behave himself unseemly; seeketh not his own; is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil; rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in truth; beareth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

"He is the pack horse of every community, the promoter of every laudable enterprise, the worst underpaid laborer in the vineyard. Counting his space as his capital, he gives more to charity, his means considered, than any other member of society. He is a power in politics, a pillar of the church, a leader in the crusade for better morals. He is pre-eminently the friend of humanity. Line upon line, paragraph upon paragraph, day by day, he is embalming in cold type the facts from which the Herodotus, Tacitus, Sismondi or Macaulay of the future will write the history of our times. He fully chronicles our advent into the world, briefly notes our uprisings and our downfalls and sorrowfully records our exit."

"As a creator of beauty he doubled discounts Mme. Ayres, who professes to increase feminine pulchritude only in particular instances, while the country editor, exercising plenary power, beautifies impartially all women whose names appear in his columns. By a touch of his magician's wand he converts paste into diamonds glistening upon beauty's neck, and with a skill of which ancient and ambitious alchemists only dreamed, and with a politeness which Chesterfield might have envied, he transmutes brass trinkets into golden jewels when worn by members of a subscriber's family. He is the greatest and most ingenious of manufacturers, for while others manufacture perishable stuffs he is engaged in manufacturing immortal statemen out of raw—sometimes very raw—materials, an industry which even the Dingley tariff cannot protect. He is

"To our virtues very kind And to our faults a little blind."

"We are all more or less—generally more—his handiwork, and the creature should not be ungrateful to his creator. Without his generous and enthusiastic labors most of us would never have been here, and when he tires of us most of us will return to private life amid rural scenes propitious for secret meditation and silent prayer. Working night and day during the campaign, when the election is over and the time comes for the distribution of the loaves and fishes—now vulgarly called 'pie'—by some strange lapse of memory he is generally forgotten."

Mr. Clark dropped into history for a further illustration of his subject and referred to Horace Greeley's letter to William H. Seward in 1854.

READY TO FIGHT SPAIN.

Eight Hundred Italians, Now Residents of Alabama, Have Adopted Resolutions.

The Italian Society of Jefferson County, Alabama, with a membership of 800, former subjects of King Humbert, at a recent meeting unanimously adopted the following resolutions:

"We, the Italian-American citizens of Birmingham and vicinity, deplore the loss of the brave sailors who suffered death in the Maine disaster in Havana harbor, and we are ready and hereby tender our services to defend the stars and stripes, the flag of our adoption, at any time we are called upon."

Accounts of the Maine disaster printed in Italian were read and patriotic speeches were made. A prominent member of the society says that every Italian who has made America his home is only waiting a call to arms in order to prove his loyalty to this country.—St. Louis Republic.

One Instance.

"Our proud name has never been humbled in the dust," said Miss Parvenoo.

"Oh, yes, it has, Sally!" said the inconvenient and objectionable old friend of the family. "I remember it happen 40 years ago, when the wind blowed down the sign off your grandfather's shoe shop."—Indianapolis Journal.

BUY UNION MADE GOODS.

Union Workmen and Sympathizers Should Ask For the Label.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

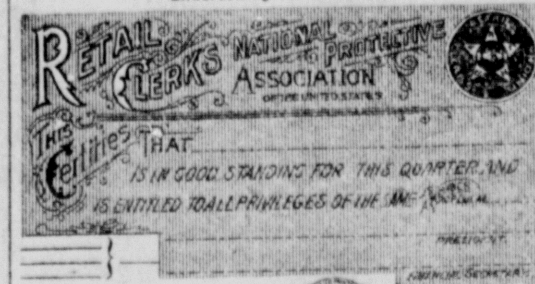

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

The Union Label committee of Trades council having been instructed to secure and publish a fac-simile of different Union Labels, in order to more thoroughly acquaint the public with the same, they herewith present the following. It is the purpose of the committee to insert other labels, and when making purchases you should ask for labeled goods. Be on your guard for false and counterfeit labels.

JUDGE REYNOLDS' BILL

Is Really Secretary of State Kinney's Pet Measure.

THERE ARE NO LOOPHOLES

It Provides For Primary Elections of the Right Kind, and There Is a Penalty of From $100 to $500 For Fraudulent Voting—It Will Be Expensive.

[Special Correspondence.]

COLUMBUS, March 26.—The principal feature of the movement to bring about purer primaries is the measure introduced by Judge Reynolds, of Lake county.

The bill is the one written by Secretary of State Kinney, and expresses his ideas on the manner in which primaries should be conducted after a vast amount of experience with the election machinery of the state. Under the provisions of this bill all primary elections, whether for the purpose of electing delegates to a nominating convention, or for nominating candidates direct, shall be held under the supervision of the board of election or deputy state supervisors, in the same manner as is required by law for general elections. The central committee of the party may decide whether the primary shall be to choose delegates to a nominating convention, or whether candidates shall be nominated by a direct vote, but the board of elections must be notified of such decision 15 days before the date of the primaries. After such notice the board of elections, or deputy supervisors, take full charge of the election and conduct it on lines as strict as a regular election, the intent being to avoid any semblance of fraud whatever.

Nominations for place on the official ballot shall be by petition, filed with the central committee at least 20 days before the date of holding the primary. Such petition shall be signed in the aggregate, if the person is a candidate in only one election precinct, by at least 20 legal voters; if a candidate in a single ward or township, by not less than 50 voters, and by not less than 100 voters if a candidate throughout any county or city of the first class. The names of the candidates nominated as herein provided shall be printed upon the official ballot, and no name shall be printed on the ballot unless so nominated.

One objection that has been made to this bill is the expense, for after the board of elections has received the nominations the election is conducted with the same judges and clerks as a regular election and the ballots, poll books and other machinery is provided by the board of elections or the county board of deputy state supervisors. The compensation for election officials and other expenses, when the candidates voted for are to come before the people at an April election, shall be charged against the township, village or political division in which such election, is held and paid out of the county treasury upon warrant of the county auditor. Expenses of primaries for nominating candidates for the November election shall be paid out of the county treasury as other county expenses, and the county commissioners, township trustees, city council, or other taxing body is authorized to make the levy to meet the same.

The bill at great length details the manner in which the elections shall be conducted and every safeguard possible is provided. In this way the bill would do away with any contest in conventions to elect delegates to a nominating convention the board of election, or deputy supervisors shall canvass the result and certify duplicate lists of delegates and alternates who have been chosen. One list shall be kept on file and the other shall be delivered to the chairman of the convention, and it shall be the official list of delegates and alternates, and no other persons shall be allowed a vote in such convention. So strict is the bill on this line that it shall be unlawful for any delegate or alternate to give any proxy or authority for any other person to act or vote in his stead. The same applies to the election of committeemen.

Another great point in this measure is the qualification of voters for a regular election. The bill provides that at primaries only legally qualified voters of the party holding the same shall be allowed to vote, and no person shall be considered a member of any political party unless he has before openly affiliated with the same. In election precincts where registration is required the registers of the last election shall be used and no one shall vote unless he is a registered elector in the precinct in which he resides on the day of the primary election. It is claimed by some that this provision would work a hardship upon a man who wished to work for a friend, or who wished to change his party, but on the other hand the argument is made that no man should be given a voice in the councils of any party until he has become a member, and such restriction it needed to prevent repeating and colonization of voters at the primaries.

The penalty for any fraudulent voting or other violation of this law is fixed at imprisonment from one to three years or fine from $100 to $500 or both.

BLAQUE WILSON.

Lincoln's Care In the Use of Words.

In the opinion of the judges and practitioners with whom Lincoln was associated during his quarter of a century at the bar his most prominent characteristic was his rare faculty for detecting and disclosing the controlling point in a legal battle. But not less than this was his clear, full, orderly and accurate statement of a case, always so fair and logical that it was often said that after Lincoln had summed up the important facts in a controversy there was but little occasion for argument on either side. He habitually employed at the bar the same care and skill in the use of words and the expression of ideas which he so often afterward exhibited when called to a higher field of labor, instances of which are seen in all his state papers and in the changes for the better which he made in the writings of his scholarly secretary of state, particularly in the correspondence relative to the Trent affair, which probably avoided a war with England. A fine example of the grandeur of his diction is to be found in his Gettysburg address, which has a permanent place in the literature of the world.

He thought vigorously and thoroughly, but did not speak quickly. In reality his hesitation was only the result of his great care always to know his ground. His habit was before speaking or acting to deliberately look through, around and beyond every fact, statement or proposition involved and subject it to his wonderful powers of perception and analysis. This required time, but it made him successful in every important undertaking. While he thought much, he could not truthfully be called a great reader. He knew thoroughly the works of Coke, Blackstone, Stephen, Chitty, Starkey and later Greenleaf's "Evidence" and Story's "Equity." He gave but little time to searching for precedents or studying what is called case law.—James L. King in North American Review.

A Barnato Story.

It is said that when Barney Barnato gave a picnic at the opening of the Johannesburg waterworks he related an incident that had happened to him in London some time before. A seedy looking man, describing himself as a journalist, called on him one day and offered to cut out from papers, etc., all the complimentary things said about Mr. Barnato. The genial man of millions saw that the man was "down on his luck" and engaged him on the spot at a salary of £15 per month. This was quite characteristic of Barney's sudden and irresponsible freaks. At the end of six months the man, who had been paid monthly, again called on Mr. Barnato and presented a huge bundle of clippings from newspapers, asking whether he should continue the work. "No," replied Barney, "but I will engage you for six months at the same salary to cut out all the nasty things you can find said about me." Another six months elapsed, and once more the indefatigable paper clipper turned up and reported his work to be finished. "Well," asked Barney, "where are the results of your work?" Here Barney assumed his gravest aspect as he repeated the man's reply: "I have not been able to bring them in. There are two cartloads outside."—Westminster Budget.

Be Natural.

If a woman cannot secure a young man for a life mate by being herself, living her natural life, she would be far better off to remain single to the end of her days. The cloak of deception universally worn by young women as well as young men during courtship cannot be continued through married life when together. The strain would be too great and the mask must and is thrown off and trouble begins. Each one finds that the other is not what he or she seemed to be. What she or he in reality would be just what some other young man or woman would want, for there is a Jack for every Jill. When detection, lying or false swearing is resorted to for material gain, it brings in its train its own punishment every time.—Philadelphia Times.

How to Stop Sneezing and Coughing.

Most of us have no doubt experienced the discomforts of being seized with a fit of coughing or sneezing at the most inconvenient times and places, and it is not usually supposed that any exercise of the will power can be made efficient in checking either a cough or a sneeze. Dr. Brown-Sequard, however, in one of his lectures said that coughing can be stopped by pressing on the nerves of the lips in the neighborhood of the nose. Sneezing may be stopped by the same means. Pressing in the neighborhood of the ear may stop coughing. Pressing very hard on the top of the mouth is also a means of stopping coughing.

JAPS ARE EXCLUDED.

GOVERNMENT RULE THAT BARS THEM FROM THE NAVY.

A Number of Them Were on Board the Battleship Maine—They Pick Up Most Valuable Naval Information—It's Quick Rise in Construction of Warships.

In view of the fact that there were several Japanese on board the Maine when it was blown up it is interesting to learn that the government has adopted a method that will keep them out of our navy.

The Japs are the one people who in coming to the United States with their purposes fixed, their industry and intelligence, haul coals to Newcastle, for they out-Yankee the Yankee. They come into the den of the lions, as it were, and take the lions' meat away with them.

These young Japs do the most menial work for the officers of the navy, receiving little more than bread and clothes. Yet they find time to attend day or night schools and pick up the most valuable naval information, which in a few years will be at the disposal of the Japanese government.

Yet that government may want indemnity for her subjects killed on the Maine.

There are many illustrations to show the quickness and great intelligence of these Japs, but I take the latest that has come under my observation as an example.

"It," they called him at the Brooklyn navy yard, was just 5 feet 4 inches tall (and that plays a part in this story). He cooked for one of the officers stationed on the receiving ship Vermont. He went to school at night in Brooklyn, but most of all he studied the construction of warships and absorbed all the naval information possible.

He wrote to the Cramps in Philadelphia, making some valuable suggestions which so impressed the great shipbuilders that they gave him a place on a small salary. He was not long in rising to the responsible place of "instructor," so called, in the Cramps' yard.

But now Ito, so his brother Japs at the yard say, has been summoned home by his government to superintend the construction of warships for Japan.

All these humble appearing Japs that we see about the ships and the yards are students. Nothing interferes with their purpose—their life's work.

They serve in our navy in insignificant capacities that they may serve their own nation in great ones.

When some of them were killed on the Maine, valuable men and useful information which were to have been used for Japan's benefit were destroyed.

Is it any wonder that Japan wants an indemnity?

It will be about her last chance to get either indemnity or information by way of our navy. The government has passed a rule that men admitted to the navy must be more than 5 feet 4 inches tall. Navy officers say that will exclude the Japs.—Cecil Hastings in New York Press.

BIG SALE OF HEREFORDS.

One Bull Brought $3,000 and a Cow $1,125 at Emporia.

The highest price ever paid for a Hereford in the United States at public auction was reached recently at Emporia, Kan. The prize animal was purchased to send east, Colonel Murray Boock of "Castalia," Keswick, Va., paying $3,000 for the 2-year-old imported bull Salisbury. The largest sales were made to Kansas and Colorado breeders, the heaviest individual buyer being G. W. Adams of Creston, Colo., who is known as one of the most successful breeders of high grade cattle in the United States.

Some of the highest prices received follow: Lomister Daisy, imported cow, $1,125, to G. W. Adams, Creston, Colo.; True Briton, imported bull, $975, to John M. Foster, Topeka; Archibald VI, bull bred in Emporia, $910, to L. S. Young, Oakland, Neb.; Western Stamp, imported bull, $880, to Cornish & Patton, Osborne, Mo. The 145 head brought $61,300, an average of $411 per head, the largest average ever made in America at a sale of Herefords.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Harsh Judgments.

Time was when I believed that wrong
In others to detect
Was part of genius and a gift
To cherish, not reject.

Now, better taught by Thee, O Lord,
This truth draws on my mind,
The best effect of heavenly light
Is earth's false eyes to blind.

How Thou canst think so well of us,
Yet be the God Thou art,
Is darkness to my intellect,
But sunshine to my heart.

Yet habits linger in the soul:
More grace, O Lord, more grace!
More sweetness from Thy loving heart,
More sunshine from Thy face!

We paint from self the evil things
We think that others are,
While to the self despising soul
All things but self are fair.

I need Thy mercy for my sin,
But more than this I need—
Thy mercy's likeness in my soul
For others' sins to bleed.

All bitterness is from ourselves.
All sweetness is from Thee.
Sweet God, forevermore be Thou
Fountain and fire in me.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Feb. 24, 1905.

MR. L. H. CLEMENT:
Having carefully examined the Clifford piano, I am pleased to state that I find the same an excellent instrument. Among its chief points are depth, richness and volume of tone and duration of sound, combined with clearness and perfect evenness throughout the entire scale. Regarding the inner mysteries of piano construction as judged from a practical tuner's standpoint, it is equal in every detail to the best. I consider the Clifford piano entitled to rank among our first-class pianos.

Yours truly,
REUBEN H. KEMPF.

TO THE ADVERTISERS.

The Evening News Review has the largest bona fide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.

HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

TO BUSINESS MEN.

The combination prices of the NEWS REVIEW, advertisement in paper and bills from said advertisement, are cheaper than any other daily paper in the city, while the workmanship, material and inks made use of are incomparably superior to those of would-be competitors. Test the matter. We will prove the truth of our assertion.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Clark C. Beymer is threatened with an attack of typhoid fever.

Manager Swaney yesterday afternoon placed telephones in several hill residences.

The electric light at the corner of Sixth and West Market streets was out last night.

Reverend Salmon, of East End, left this morning for Bloomingdale where he will preach tomorrow.

The hospital association will not meet next week as expected, but a meeting will be held the week following.

This morning 10 baskets of ware were sent to Allegheny on the first train. It is the first shipment made this week.

S. C. Dyke, foreman at the G. F. Brunt porcelain works is ill at his room in the Hotel Grand with typhoid fever.

The noon train was 35 minutes late arriving in this city. A short distance below Walker's it was delayed 15 minutes by the local.

The township trustees today awarded the contract for repairing a bridge over Beaver creek which was damaged by the high water.

New packing was placed in the valves of the fire engine at the station yesterday and today. The machine will soon be in the best possible condition.

The builder's exchange held an interesting meeting in their rooms in Sixth street last night. The charter will close at the meeting next Friday night.

The announcement is made that the Bible depository has been moved from Mrs. Allison's millinery store to the Young Men's Christian association.

Sheriff Gill is in the city today serving subpoenas in the damage suit of Bryan versus Burford Bros. He is also attending to some private business.

The household effects of Miss Fannie R. Reed were this morning sent to Tellahome, Tenn. During the week no less than six movings were handled.

Charles Kinney, of Union street, and Fred Wooster, of Fourth street, who have been spending several days in Pittsburgh, returned home last night.

Fred Johnson, who died at his home in Hookstown Wednesday from heart failure, was buried in the Hookstown cemetery yesterday afternoon. He was well known in this place.

The Jeannette and McDonald football teams are today playing off the cup tie series at Braddock. Some money has been wagered in the city on the result of the contest with the odds in favor of McDonald.

The case of J. C. Cain versus Bridget Kinney to have been heard this morning by Squire Rose was postponed for one week by mutual consent of the parties interested.

Rev. W. W. Morton preached at the special service held in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church last night. The gentleman is a brother of George Morton, of this city, and resides in Allegheny.

During the night a rail on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road near Union streets split. This morning Section Foreman Hickey took a rail from the Metsch switch and placed it in the position of the broken one before trains passed.

The flat of sand owned by Edward Schneider, which was sunk opposite this city Wednesday, was raised yesterday. A line was attached to the flat and it was pushed out in the stream and was turned over by the current. The sand was lost.

The first general road bill to get through the house this session has been made half a law. It is a bill by Mr. Ross to authorize township trustees to levy a tax of three mills for the improvement of public highways. The question of levying the tax is to be submitted to a vote of the people. It is claimed that under it roads can be improved which cannot now be done under the two-mile road law.

ALLOWING APPEALS.

Bill Effecting Common Pleas Cases Introduced.

MONEY FOR MASSILLON HOSPITAL.

A Measure Launched in the House by Mr. Booth—Alexander's Bill Passed the Senate, Providing For Custodial Care of Imbeciles of the State.

COLUMBUS, March 26.—A bill has been introduced in the house by Mr. Otis, permitting an appeal from the common pleas court in divers cases.

Other bills introduced were:

Mr. Meacham, authorizing counties to refund bonds issued for armory purposes, but since declared illegal.

Mr. Powell, revising the list of officers in the penitentiary, and changing some of the salaries.

Mr. Booth, appropriating $50,000 for construction purposes and $6,000 for fight of way for the Massillon state hospital.

Mr. Kemper, providing that where a municipal corporation has residing within it no attorney admitted to practice in Ohio, any attorney may be made city solicitor.

These bills were introduced in the senate:

Senator Kennon, abolishing the present board of medical registration and establishing another in its place of seven members, to be appointed by the governor.

Senator Lutz, appropriating $3,000 for the industrial department of Wilberforce university.

Senator Robertson, proposing to adopt the New York law governing the organization and operations of assessments life insurance companies.

Senator Nichols, providing that when a person owning property dies intestate there shall be a proceeding in the probate court of the county, in which evidence shall be taken as to who are heirs of the estate, which evidence shall be preserved as records of the court.

The senate passed Senator Alexander's bill providing for custodial care of adult imbecils by the state.

McKinley's Own Want to Fight.

COLUMBUS, March 26.—Lieutenant Colonel Nathan Holloway of Canton called upon Governor Bushnell and tendered the services of the volunteer regiment of that city, composed of veterans of the late war, in the event of a conflict with Spain. The regiment, organized in McKinley's home town, is called "The President's Own." Two full companies of the regiment have already been recruited.

Contract For War Material.

ALLIANCE, March 26.—The Morgan Engineering company of this city received word from the war department that it had been awarded the building of five 8-inch disappearing gun carriages and six of the 12-inch carriages for coast defense. The price for the work, it is believed, will approximate $500,000.

Awarded a Contract.

CLEVELAND, March 26.—Officers of the Walker company have received a telegram from General Flagler, chief of the ordnance department, stating that the company had been awarded the contract for one-third of the disappearing gun carriages recently ordered by the war department.

SENSATIONAL FAILURE.

Philadelphia Bank Failed, After the Suicide of the Cashier—Due to Another Failure.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—The sudden death of John S. Hopkins, cashier of the People's bank, and the assignment made by the Guarantors' Finance company, were followed by disclosures which showed an important connection between the two events.

The coroner's investigation developed the fact, hitherto concealed by the family, that Hopkins had committed suicide by shooting himself and an examination of the affairs of the People's bank by its officers resulted in the revelation that Hopkins had during the past two years loaned the bank's funds in large amounts to Richard T. Loper, general manager of the Guarantors' Finance company.

These loans which remain unpaid and aggregate, it is said, over $600,000, were made wholly without the knowledge of the officers and directors of the bank. The securities given by Loper as collateral for the loans were found, according to the statement of one of the bank's officials, to have very little value. In consequence of these revelations the bank closed its doors.

The state insurance commissioner on Wednesday asked the court to appoint a receiver for the Guarantors' Finance company, which did an insurance business, and it is believed that Hopkins, on learning that the company could not make good its indebtedness to the bank, and knowing that exposure would follow on investigation of the Guarantors' affairs, concluded to end his troubles by taking his life.

NINE MEN INDICTED.

Former Brooklyn Officials Accused of Defrauding the City.

NEW YORK, March 26.—In the Kings county criminal court in Brooklyn, indictments were handed down by the grand jury against nine former city officials and contractors of Brooklyn.

It is said that the indictments charge a conspiracy by which the city was defrauded of $80,000 by means of fraudulent contracts.

NO GROUND FOR PANIC.

Dun Points Out the Good Condition of Business in Spite of the Probability of War.

NEW YORK, March 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: A waiting state of things always hinders business to some extent. With more than $34,000,000 gold received or on its way since this movement began, with ample bank reserves and treasury reserves, and a redemption of notes in all ways nearly a third smaller than in February to date, with no stringency in the money market and sterling exchange weak, with the volume of business at clearinghouses outside New York larger than in 1892 by 6.9 per cent this month, and with failures nearly 30 per cent smaller than last year and 52 per cent smaller than in the same month of 1892, there is not much visible ground for panic, even if earnest efforts should fail to keep peace with honor.

Warlike reports come every day, and stock operators make the most of them, and yet the average of prices of railroad stocks is $58.08, against $53.20 two weeks ago today. Nor have industrial operations been perceptibly affected, except where extraordinary buying for some weeks past has made necessary a pause for breath, so to speak.

Atlantic exports of wheat for the week have been 2,160,826 bushels, against 1,272,286 last year, and in four weeks 9,302,514 bushels (four included), against 5,103,427 last year, with Pacific exports 4,232,032 bushels, against 809,242 last year. The price has declined 2 1/2 cents.

Corn has declined only a small fraction, with exports not a sixth lower than a year ago to date.

Domestic exports from New York in two weeks have been $9,108,000 or 37.8 per cent larger than last year, while imports have been scarcely larger, foreign exports again exceeding $100,000,000 for the month and $24,000,000 over imports.

Sales of wool have been only 11,411,600 pounds in three weeks at the three chief markets, against 46,605,300 last year, and prices are yielding, with sales of old wool 1/2 to 1 cent below current quotations for clothing, and no indication that manufacturers are nearing the end of their stocks.

The iron and steel industry is more fully employed than ever before in its history.

Failures for the week have been 251 in the United States, against 291 last year, and 21 in Canada, against 50 last year.

RECKLESS FIRING ON BOATS.

Flood Sufferers to Be Prosecuted—Other Steamers Riddled—Mate's Close Call.

WHEELING, March 26.—The firing on many steamboats by reckless individuals at Moundsville, 12 miles below Wheeling, is going to result in serious trouble for them if the steamboatmen are able to make out cases in the West Virginia and federal courts.

Several more boats have been fired on among them the Cincinnati liner Virginia. Mate Pennyweight was standing in front of a mirror when a bullet crashed through the woodwork, grazed his head and shattered the mirror into a hundred pieces. Another bullet also crashed past him, and he lost no time in reporting the matter to the captain. Three other bullets passed through the Virginia's cabin.

The towboat Tornado was captured by the Moundsville lawbreakers and compelled to remain here.

The Pittsburg towboat, Samuel Clark, was riddled with bullets, being struck by bullets in 48 places.

Other boats fired on are the packets Lexington, Lorena, Argand, H. K. Bedford and Ruth and the towboat Eliza H.

In order to avert trouble the Cincinnati liner, Queen City, floated past Moundsville without steam turned on, and she was not fired on. Sheriff Doyle is now at Moundsville, and says there will be no repetition of the reckless shooting.

DESOLATION IN OHIO VALLEY.

Though the Flood Practically Is Past, Want Is Manifest Everywhere.

CINCINNATI, March 26.—As far as terror and loss of life and property are concerned, that is all over in the interior and on the tributaries of the Ohio. But want and desolation are sadly manifest. Great damage to homes seems to have been done at Dayton, where hundreds of families have been driven from their homes and made dependent on public charity. One building association there has mortgages on 200 inundated houses. The Ohio river is rising at all points from Parkersburg to Cairo. At Cincinnati last night the stage was 53.3 feet. Fifty-five feet is expected.

At Zanesville loss is about $1,000,000. PITTSBURGH, March 26.—Although the Monongahela river is slowly rising the dangers of a flood are practically over. The Allegheny continues to fall at a slow rate. The rise in the Monongahela is caused by heavy rains at the headwaters. No danger is feared that the stage will equal that of Wednesday.

HOT TIME IN THE HOUSE.

A Ruling by Reed Against Political Speeches Causes Exciting Scenes.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The stirring scenes of the Fifty-first congress when members of the minority were charging down the aisles protesting against the rulings of Speaker Reed were recalled in the turbulent protests made by the minority against a ruling of the chair during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill. The ruling in effect compelled members to confine their remarks under the five-minute rule to the subject before the house and was made against Mr. Hartman (Silver Rep., Mon.), who attempted to make a political speech. The ruling was denounced as a usurpation and appeal after appeal was taken. When all else failed every expedient was resorted to to block progress with the bill. As a result but four pages were disposed of. Before the bill was taken up for amendment Mr. Foss (Rep., Ill.), a member of the naval committee, made a general speech in advocacy of the policy of building up a strong and powerful navy.

CATHOLICS LOYAL TO THE FLAG.

A Speaker in Chicago Raises Enthusiasm Among Them.

CHICAGO, March 26.—A stirring incident has occurred at Central Music hall. Before a large audience of Roman Catholics, presided over by Archbishop Feehan, and including nearly every well known man of that faith in Chicago, Hon. John J. Delaney of New York was delivering an address under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, when he said:

"Need I add that if any crisis arises in the life of this nation tomorrow, let the occasion come how it may, you may be sure that the Catholics of the United States will if need be drain every vein in their bodies to attest their devotion to the Stars and Stripes."

The applause that followed was instantaneous and vigorous.

Trouble of Miss Barton and Klopsch.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Stephen Barton and Charles A. Schieren, who, with Louis Klopsch, compose the central Cuban relief committee, met here to discuss the differences between Miss Clara Barton of the Red Cross society and Mr. Klopsch, which grew out of the latter's visit to Cuba to oversee the distribution of food and other supplies. Schieren will go to Washington to have an interview with the state department.

JAPAN'S DEMAND ON RUSSIA.

Action in Korea Thought to Be a Concession to the Japs.

YOKOHAMA, March 26.—A report that Japan has requested Russia to evacuate Port Arthur finds credence in the Japanese press, which regards the recall of M. Alexieff, the Russian customs agent at Seoul, as a sign that Russia has changed her policy in regard to Korea.

Worst Over at Wheeling.

WHEELING, March 26.—The flooded districts in the greater Wheeling district are slowly showing above water.

The Weather.

Fair and warmer; light southerly winds.

ALL the News in the News Review.

TO THE ADVERTISERS.
The Evening News Review has the largest bona fide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.
HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

TO BUSINESS MEN.
The combination prices of the NEWS REVIEW, advertisement in paper and bills from said advertisement, are cheaper than any other daily paper in the city, while the workmanship, material and inks made use of are incomparably superior to those of would-be competitors. Test the matter. We will prove the truth of our assertion.

LOCAL BREVITIES.
Clark C. Beymer is threatened with an attack of typhoid fever.

Manager Swaney yesterday afternoon placed telephones in several hill residences.

The electric light at the corner of Sixth and West Market streets was out last night.

Reverend Salmon, of East End, left this morning for Bloomingdale where he will preach tomorrow.

The hospital association will not meet next week as expected, but a meeting will be held the week following.

This morning 10 baskets of ware were sent to Allegheny on the first train. It is the first shipment made this week.

S. C. Dyke, foreman at the G. F. Brunt porcelain works is ill at his room in the Hotel Grand with typhoid fever.

The noon train was 35 minutes late arriving in this city. A short distance below Walker's it was delayed 15 minutes by the local.

The township trustees today awarded the contract for repairing a bridge over Beaver creek which was damaged by the high water.

New packing was placed in the valves of the fire engine at the station yesterday and today. The machine will soon be in the best possible condition.

The builder's exchange held an interesting meeting in their rooms in Sixth street last night. The charter will close at the meeting next Friday night.

The announcement is made that the Bible depository has been moved from Mrs. Allison's millinery store to the Young Men's Christian association.

Sheriff Gill is in the city today serving subpoenas in the damage suit of Bryan versus Burford Bros. He is also attending to some private business.

The household effects of Miss Fannie R. Reed were this morning sent to Tellahome, Tenn. During the week no less than six movings were handled.

Charles Kinney, of Union street, and Fred Wooster, of Fourth street, who have been spending several days in Pittsburg, returned home last night.

Fred Johnson, who died at his home in Hookstown Wednesday from heart failure, was buried in the Hookstown cemetery yesterday afternoon. He was well known in this place.

The Jeannette and McDonald football teams are today playing off the cup tie series at Braddock. Some money has been wagered in the city on the result of the contest with the odds in favor of McDonald.

The case of J. C. Cain versus Bridget Kinney to have been heard this morning by Squire Rose was postponed for one week by mutual consent of the parties interested.

Rev. W. W. Morton preached at the special service held in the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church last night. The gentleman is a brother of George Morton, of this city, and resides in Allegheny.

During the night a rail on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road near Union streetsplit. This morning Section Foreman Hickey took a rail from the Metsch switch and placed it in the position of the broken one before trains passed.

The flat of sand owned by Edward Schneider, which was sunk opposite this city Wednesday, was raised yesterday. A line was attached to the flat and it was pushed out in the stream and was turned over by the current. The sand was lost.

The first general road bill to get through the house this session has been made half a law. It is a bill by Mr. Ross to authorize township trustees to levy a tax of three mills for the improvement of public highways. The question of levying the tax is to be submitted to a vote of the people. It is claimed that under it roads can be improved which cannot now be done under the two-mile road law.

ALLOWING APPEALS.

Bill Effecting Common Pleas Cases Introduced.

MONEY FOR MASSILLON HOSPITAL.

A Measure Launched in the House by Mr. Booth—Alexander's Bill Passed the Senate, Providing For Custodial Care of Imbeciles of the State.

COLUMBUS, March 26.—A bill has been introduced in the house by Mr. Otis, permitting an appeal from the common pleas court in divers cases.

Other bills introduced were: Mr. Meacham, authorizing counties to refund bonds issued for armory purposes, but since declared illegal.

Mr. Powell, revising the list of officers in the penitentiary, and changing some of the salaries.

Mr. Booth, appropriating $50,000 for construction purposes and $6,000 for fight of way for the Massillon state hospital.

Mr. Kemper, providing that where a municipal corporation has residing within it no attorney admitted to practice in Ohio, any attorney may be made city solicitor.

These bills were introduced in the senate:

Senator Kennon, abolishing the present board of medical registration and establishing another in its place of seven members, to be appointed by the governor.

Senator Lutz, appropriating $3,000 for the industrial department of Wilberforce university.

Senator Robertson, proposing to adopt the New York law governing the organization and operations of assessments life insurance companies.

Senator Nichols, providing that when a person owning property dies intestate there shall be a proceeding in the probate court of the county, in which evidence shall be taken as to who are heirs of the estate, which evidence shall be preserved as records of the court.

The senate passed Senator Alexander's bill providing for custodial care of adult imbeciles by the state.

McKinley's Own Want to Fight.

COLUMBUS, March 26.—Lieutenant Colonel Nathan Holloway of Canton called upon Governor Bushnell and tendered the services of the volunteer regiment of that city, composed of veterans of the late war, in the event of a conflict with Spain. The regiment, organized in McKinley's home town, is called "The President's Own." Two full companies of the regiment have already been recruited.

Contract For War Material.

ALLIANCE, March 26.—The Morgan Engineering company of this city received word from the war department that it had been awarded the building of five 8-inch disappearing gun carriages and six of the 12-inch carriages for coast defense. The price for the work, it is believed, will approximate $500,000.

Awarded a Contract.

CLEVELAND, March 26.—Officers of the Walker company have received a telegram from General Flagler, chief of the ordnance department, stating that the company had been awarded the contract for one-third of the disappearing gun carriages recently ordered by the war department.

SENSATIONAL FAILURE.

Philadelphia Bank Failed, After the Suicide of the Cashier—Due to Another Failure.

PHILADELPHIA, March 26.—The sudden death of John S. Hopkins, cashier of the People's bank, and the assignment made by the Guarantors' Finance company, were followed by disclosures which showed an important connection between the two events.

The coroner's investigation developed the fact, hitherto concealed by the family, that Hopkins had committed suicide by shooting himself and an examination of the affairs of the People's bank by its officers resulted in the revelation that Hopkins had during the past two years loaned the bank's funds in large amounts to Richard T. Loper, general manager of the Guarantors' Finance company.

These loans which remain unpaid and aggregate, it is said, over $600,000, were made wholly without the knowledge of the officers and directors of the bank. The securities given by Loper as collateral for the loans were found, according to the statement of one of the bank's officials, to have very little value. In consequence of these revelations the bank closed its doors.

The state insurance commissioner on Wednesday asked the court to appoint a receiver for the Guarantors' Finance company, which did an insurance business, and it is believed that Hopkins, on learning that the company could not make good its indebtedness to the bank, and knowing that exposure would follow on investigation of the Guarantors' affairs, concluded to end his troubles by taking his life.

NINE MEN INDICTED.

Former Brooklyn Officials Accused of Defrauding the City.

NEW YORK, March 26.—In the Kings county criminal court in Brooklyn, indictments were handed down by the grand jury against nine former city officials and contractors of Brooklyn.

It is said that the indictments charge a conspiracy by which the city was defrauded of $80,000 by means of fraudulent contracts.

NO GROUND FOR PANIC.

Dun Points Out the Good Condition of Business in Spite of the Probability of War.

NEW YORK, March 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: A waiting state of things always hinders business to some extent. With more than $34,000,000 gold received or on its way since this movement began, with ample bank reserves and treasury reserves, and a redemption of notes in all ways nearly a third smaller than in February to date, with no stringency in the money market and sterling exchange weak, with the volume of business at clearinghouses outside New York larger than in 1892 by 6.9 per cent this month, and with failures nearly 30 per cent smaller than last year and 52 per cent smaller than in the same month of 1892, there is not much visible ground for panic, even if earnest efforts should fail to keep peace with honor.

Warlike reports come every day, and stock operators make the most of them, and yet the average of prices of railroad stocks is $53.08, against $53.20 two weeks ago today. Nor have industrial operations been perceptibly affected, except where extraordinary buying for some weeks past has made necessary a pause for breath, so to speak.

Atlantic exports of wheat for the week have been 2,160,826 bushels, against 1,272,286 last year, and in four weeks 9,302,514 bushels (flour included), against 5,103,427 last year, with Pacific exports 4,232,032 bushels, against 809,242 last year. The price has declined 2 1/2 cents.

Corn has declined only a small fraction, with exports not a sixth lower than a year ago to date.

Domestic exports from New York in two weeks have been $9,108,000 or 37.8 per cent larger than last year, while imports have been scarcely larger, forecasting exports again exceeding $100,000,000 for the month and $24,000,000 over imports.

Sales of wool have been only 11,411,600 pounds in three weeks at the three chief markets, against 46,605,300 last year, and prices are yielding, with sales of old wool 1/2 to 1 cent below current quotations for clothing, and no indication that manufacturers are nearing the end of their stocks.

The iron and steel industry is more fully employed than ever before in its history.

Failures for the week have been 251 in the United States, against 291 last year, and 21 in Canada, against 50 last year.

RECKLESS FIRING ON BOATS.

Flood Sufferers to Be Prosecuted—Other Steamers Riddled—Mate's Close Call.

WHEELING, March 26.—The firing on many steamboats by reckless individuals at Moundsville, 12 miles below Wheeling, is going to result in serious trouble for them if the steamboatmen are able to make out cases in the West Virginia and federal courts.

Several more boats have been fired on among them the Cincinnati liner Virginia. Mate Pennyweight was standing in front of a mirror when a bullet crashed through the woodwork, grazed his head and shattered the mirror into a hundred pieces. Another bullet also crashed past him, and he lost no time in reporting the matter to the captain. Three other bullets passed through the Virginia's cabin.

The towboat Tornado was captured by the Moundsville lawbreakers and compelled to remain here.

The Pittsburg towboat, Samuel Clark, was riddled with bullets, being struck by bullets in 48 places.

Other boats fired on are the packets Lexington, Lorena, Argand, H. K. Bedford and Ruth and the towboat Eliza H.

In order to avert trouble the Cincinnati liner, Queen City, floated past Moundsville without steam turned on, and she was not fired on. Sheriff Doyle is now at Moundsville, and says there will be no repetition of the reckless shooting.

DESOLATION IN OHIO VALLEY.

Though the Flood Practically Is Past, Want Is Manifest Everywhere.

CINCINNATI, March 26.—As far as terror and loss of life and property are concerned, that is all over in the interior and on the tributaries of the Ohio. But want and desolation are sadly manifest. Great damage to homes seems to have been done at Dayton, where hundreds of families have been driven from their homes and made dependent on public charity. One building association there has mortgages on 200 inundated houses. The Ohio river is rising at all points from Parkersburg to Cairo. At Cincinnati last night the stage was 53.3 feet. Fifty-five feet is expected.

At Zanesville loss is about $1,000,000. PITTSBURG, March 26.—Although the Monongahela river is slowly rising the dangers of a flood are practically over. The Allegheny continues to fall at a slow rate. The rise in the Monongahela is caused by heavy rains at the headwaters. No danger is feared that the stage will equal that of Wednesday.

HOT TIME IN THE HOUSE.

A Ruling by Reed Against Political Speeches Causes Exciting Scenes.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The stirring scenes of the Fifty-first congress when members of the minority were charging down the aisles protesting against the rulings of Speaker Reed were recalled in the turbulent protests made by the minority against a ruling of the chair during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill. The ruling in effect compelled members to confine their remarks under the five-minute rule to the subject before the house and was made against Mr. Hartman (Silver Rep., Mon.), who attempted to make a political speech. The ruling was denounced as a usurpation and appeal after appeal was taken. When all else failed every expedient was resorted to to block progress with the bill. As a result but four pages were disposed of.

Before the bill was taken up for amendment Mr. Foss (Rep., Ills.), a member of the naval committee, made a general speech in advocacy of the policy of building up a strong and powerful navy.

CATHOLICS LOYAL TO THE FLAG.

A Speaker in Chicago Raises Enthusiasm Among Them.

CHICAGO, March 26.—A stirring incident has occurred at Central Music hall. Before a large audience of Roman Catholics, presided over by Archbishop Feehan, and including nearly every well known man of that faith in Chicago, Hon. John J. Delaney of New York was delivering an address under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, when he said:

"Need I add that if any crisis arises in the life of this nation tomorrow, let the occasion come how it may, you may be sure that the Catholics of the United States will if need be drain every vein in their bodies to attest their devotion to the Stars and Stripes."

The applause that followed was instantaneous and vigorous.

Trouble of Miss Barton and Klopsch.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Stephen Barton and Charles A. Schieren, who, with Louis Klopsch, compose the central Cuban relief committee, met here to discuss the differences between Miss Clara Barton of the Red Cross society and Mr. Klopsch, which grew out of the latter's visit to Cuba to oversee the distribution of food and other supplies. Schieren will go to Washington to have an interview with the state department.

JAPAN'S DEMAND ON RUSSIA.

Action in Korea Thought to Be a Concession to the Japs.

YOKOHAMA, March 26.—A report that Japan has requested Russia to evacuate Port Arthur finds credence in the Japanese press, which regards the recall of M. Alexieff, the Russian customs agent at Seoul, as a sign that Russia has changed her policy in regard to Korea.

Worst Over at Wheeling.

WHEELING, March 26.—The flooded districts in the greater Wheeling district are slowly showing above water.

The Weather.

Fair and warmer; light southerly winds.
